Editorial

1977-78 was a year of many ups and downs for BCS '78 as well as the school. Plagued by the famed curse of the Magazine of Bishop's College School, two Editors left the school this year. As a result, the yearbook went through two rebuilding stages. My warmest thanks go to ALL the people who helped with any facet of the yearbook in its stages of re-organization. Producing a yearbook is not possible by 3 or 4 people. Many people gave a hand, and even to those who offered one but were refused, Thanks.

It seems that there is a great misconception of the quality of 1977-78 at Bishop's College School. The year was hit by a larger number of unfortunate incidents than in recent years, but what many people have failed to see is that it was also "hit" by more "pluses" than normal. Unfortunately, it seems a humanism to remember the bad things that happen in a year, but a careful look back at 1977-78 will reveal a year in which the pluses actually did outweigh the minuses. 1977-78 WAS a year to be proud of; remember it as an invaluable learning experience, and grow on it.

Headmaster's Notes

This has been a very successful year for our school, and one that I think we can all be extremely proud of.

I am pleased to welcome to BCS three members of our teaching staff who joined us for the first time this year. Dr. Charles Coleman, a BCS Old Boy, came to us from St. Andrew's, Scotland, where he was a Post Doctoral Fellow. Dr. Coleman teaches Biology. Miss Deborah Hutton, who is teaching Geography and History, completed her University education in 1977 at Queen's, and Mr. Ron Romanado, who has taught History, Political Science, and Sociology, came to BCS from Concordia. We wish these three new teachers a long and successful career at BCS.

At the conclusion of this year, two members of our teaching staff will be leaving us. Mr. Grant Lewis has taught principally in Form II, has acted as Assistant Housemaster in Grier North, and has been involved in numerous coaching responsibilities. Mr. John McClintock has taught Mathematics and has also been deeply involved in our Sports program; most notably, he organized our Intramural Hockey League, which has been such a success since its beginning in 1974. To both these teachers go the school's best wishes for success in their future endeavours.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the Senior Master, Mr. Owen, to Mr. Detchon, the Director of Studies, to Mr. Cruickshank, the Director of Admissions, to Mr. Goodwin, the Director of Athletics, to Mrs. Brady, our Matron, to our Comptroller, Mr. D.F. Watson, to Col. John Blue, our Bursar, and to all the Housemasters.

My congratulations go to the Head Prefect, Robert McCarter, and to the Prefects, Luc Duval, Janet Hutchison, Yuki Kurata, Kathy McGee, Giulio Schiif, and Mike Weir. I thank you for your support, your encouragement, and for the spirit with which you have dealt not only with success, but also with disappointment. I think, too, that we should remember the leadership is evidenced in this school far beyond the doors of the Prefects Room. I congratulate all those of you who have exhibited leadership.

It gives me great pleasure to announce the appointment of Matthew Kenny as Head Prefect for 1978-79. The following have been appointed Prefects: Douglas Mitchell, Timothy Moseley, Duncan McDougall, Keith Rodeck, Jane Roots, Jennifer Shaw and Barry Younkie. They have our congratulations and our best wishes for a very successful term of office.

Our academic community during the past year consisted of 290 students, 244 boarders, and 46 day students. Of the total student population, 181 are boys, and 109 are girls.

It is interesting to note that we have enrolled sons and daughters of 51 Alumni and also that our student body represents 8 Canadian provinces and 13 foreign countries.

We look forward to an equally strong enrolment next year. We now have 280 places taken for the Fall and we expect the remaining few to be filled by the time school opens.

This year's graduating class has been well received by Canadian and American universities, and our Class of 1978 will be represented at 6 American universities and 12 Canadian universities.

The Holt library continues its steady growth this year with the addition of 600 new books, bringing our total collection to over 14,000 volumes. We are indebted to the Drummond, Duval and Molson families for their generosity in donating many valuable books from Family collections.

I would like to thank Mr. Winder, Miss Matthews and Miss Brookhouse as well as all the student librarians for the excellent work they have done this year in the administration of our library.

Last June I announced that BCS and Rugby School had agreed to begin a student exchange during Lent Term. This past winter Iain Duncan travelled to Rugby and Nicholas Hammond came to BCS. The entire venture was a great success and I speak for Mr. Woodhouse, the Headmaster of Rugby, when I say that this exchange will continue for years to come.

We fielded more than 30 competitive teams in 15 sports this year, and BCS was represented in over 300 interscholastic contests.

Our Debating and Public Speaking Society, Agora, has held a number of intraschool debates. The members have also debated against Selwyn House, Alexander Galt, and Stanstead. BCS was represented at the Optimist and the Kiwanis Club public speaking contests, and Tim Moseley won the Eastern Townships Zone Finals in the Optimist Contest. Tim will represent BCS in September in the Quebec-Mari-time Finals.

I know that there are many Old Boys and Old Girls who would want me to congratulate Margot Graham on the really fine work she is doing in the Alumni Office.

So ends 1977-78, and I congratulate all those who have helped make this year such a success, and can safely say that all will join me in having another excellent year in 1978-79.

Staff '78

R. Romanado

D. Hutton

Dr. C. Coleman

This year saw the arrival of three new teachers. Joining the McNaughton tribe, Mr. Ron Romanado came to us from Concordia to teach History, and a variety of other seventh form courses, as well as courses to other forms. Dr. C. Coleman, a BCS Old Boy, came to us Air Mail from St. Andrew's, Scotland, to find a home in the Science Dept. From Queen's came Miss Debbie Hutton, to teach Geography and History, and to instruct in Adventure Training. Upon her arrival, she was stored in the Glass House attic.

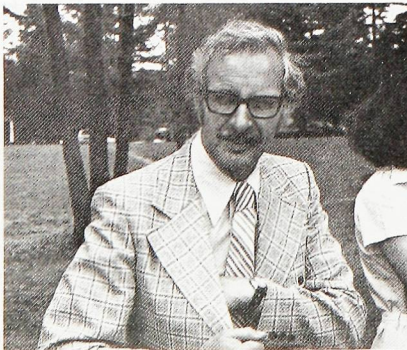

Mr. R. Owen

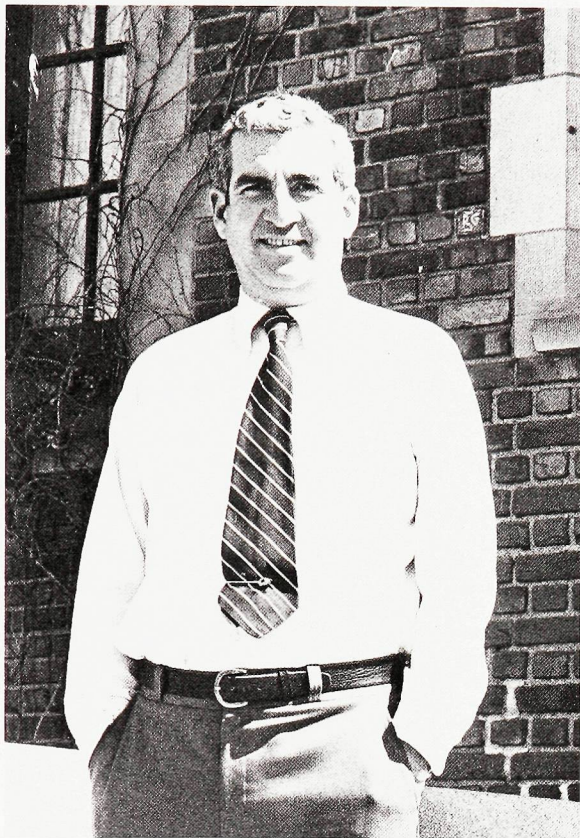

Mr. D. Cruickshank

Mr. A. Campbell

Mr. J. Cowans, Headmaster

Mr. D. H. Dutton

Once again, this year, we have the staff who stay on... Mr. Ron Owen managed to survive the year with his car intact, and has displayed continued courage in acting as the school Zookeeper. Mr. A. Campbell, King of the Red and Whites, blending Chem Study with the finer elements of Home Ec (the food), continues to spice up his classes with his unending repertoire of stories of days gone by. "And then there was this boy..." Mr. D. A. G. Cruickshank, head of the History Dept., completed his first year as Director of Admissions, and enjoyed another two sessions of the highly successful Adventure Training program.

Mr. Lloyd again entertained us all with a major musical-dramatic production. This year we saw about sixty people work together to turn out the musical "GYPSY", under his direction. Of course, we mustn't forget that McNaughton House jogging suit - people are now setting their watches at the sign of the maroon and white flash! Mrs. Taboika is still lonely in the basement, trying to teach Spanish to those who think they can talk in three languages.

Mr. W. Badger, with his lifetime and a half supply of logs, is enjoying himself immensely in front of his fireplace, while his Math class is counting down the seconds, hoping he won't arrive.

Mr. T. Goodwin is still in superb health (or so he tells us), despite his near-fatal accident with BCS's 200-ton Zamboni, on his way to yet another "Physex" class.

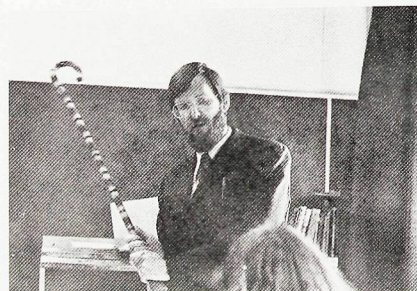

Mr. R. Lloyd

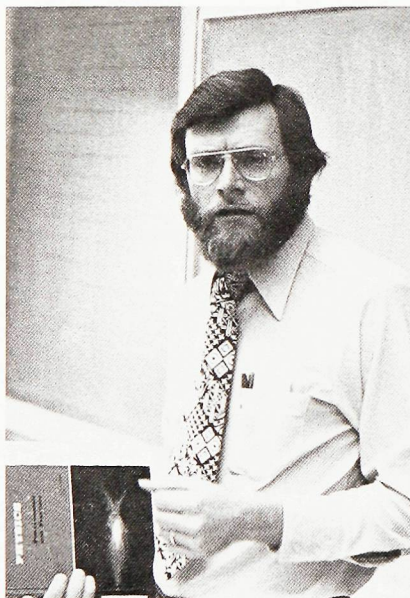

Mrs. M. Sakamoto

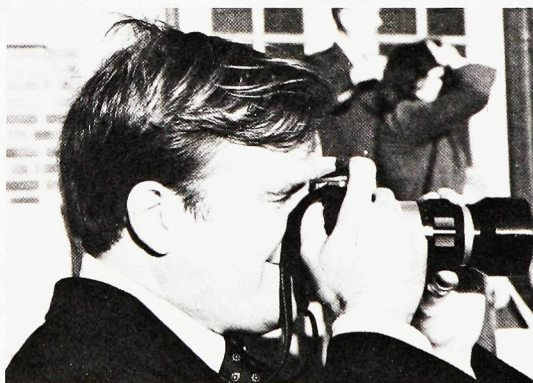

Mr. L. Evans

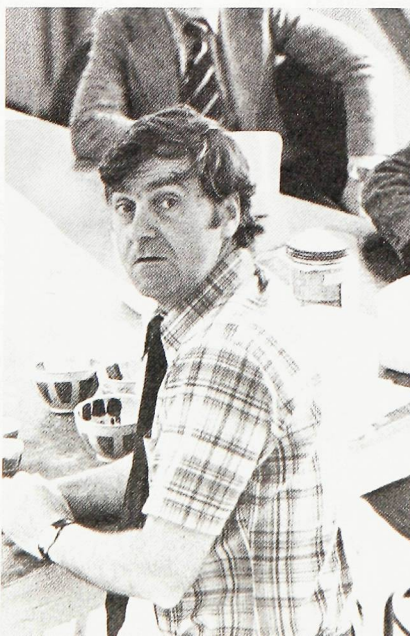

Mr. R. Perrier

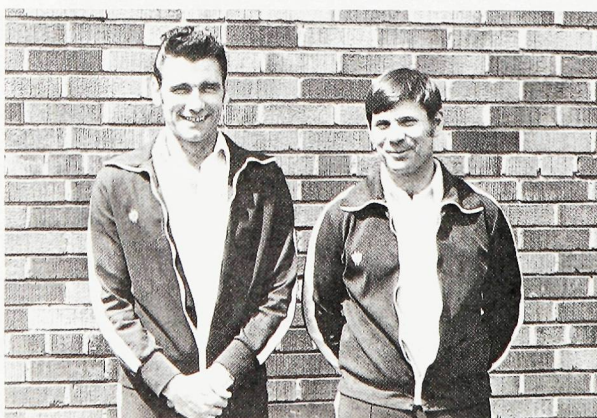

Mr. E. Detchon, who couldn't seem to decide whether he liked himself better clean-shaven or bearded, remains the fearless leader of the Gillard Brigade. Mr. S. Bateman completed another successful year, with his squash crease doing excellently in competition, and his Glass Housers doing just as well in their competitions. Mr. Dutton did a tremendous job of working himself in as the new housemaster of Grier South, and had plenty of time to keep the Juniors in line, as well as Brat and Sinbad. Rev. Roberts, still as faithful as always, continues to help the school immensely in many areas apart from chapel, and, as he is leaving the school after '79, we wish him well in his last year here. Mrs. McGregor leads on in her faithful fight against burnt pie crusts and socks with no openings, and makes a valiant effort to make good little housewives (and good little househusbands) out of those who take Home Economics. Miss Hewson remained Head of the Music Department, which presented a recital in late May. Congratulations must be extended to her for falling into place as Organist at daily chapel after Easter, and doing a fine job of it as well. The St. Jacques are still here, the Mr. in his Science lab, and Mrs. teaching French, and both of them adding a little good nature at BCS.

Mr. P. Milner

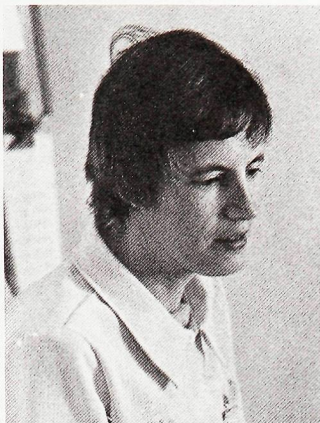

Mr. B. Trower

Mr. D. Turner
and
Mr. C. Goodwin

Miss M. Owens

Miss C. Moralejo

Mr. D. Roberts

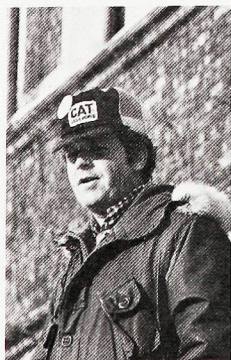

Mr. Milner, made famous by his five cups of coffee to calm his nerves during duty Chez Willie's, continued to bump his head on the bookcase each night, and remained the official BCS stand-up (or was it sit-down) comedian. Mr. Perrier once more kept his Juniors in North on the straight and true and kept his wife busy doing duty in a boys' house. (Huh? ) Mr. McCaffery had an excellent year as the new housemaster of Chapman. Ms. Tirk spent the year babysitting Charles and of course his kids too. And Lucy. The editorial staff wish to make no forecasts at this time, but... Mrs. Sakamoto is still the Day Housemother and is still worrying about Andy's papers. Mr. Trower once again brightened the walls of Center Hall with artistic creations made under his direction in the Art Room, and Mr. Evans is just down the hall arguing with Edward about why the bologna wasn't out during Butterflies are Free, and why he kissed twice in Romeo and Juliet. Miss Moralejo had another great year as our own Nadia, helping the sports program a great deal. Mrs. Brown kept trying to teach English to our foreigners (Qué) and our sympathy goes out to her.

This year two teachers leave us. Mr. John McClintock came to us in 1974 from Mount Allison and Queen's, to bring an energetic style of teaching and living that refreshed all who came into contact with him. His immeasurable contribution to First Team Football, Rugby, and especially the IHA, seems impossible for one man to achieve, but Mr. McClintock was able to do it. His incredible devotion to the affairs of the school and his unending concern for all students will be sadly missed, and we wish him well in the future.

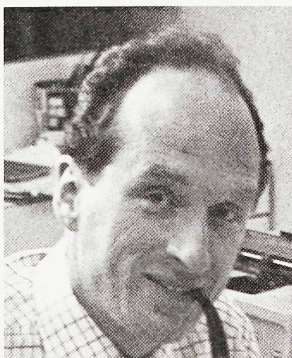

Mr. Grant Lewis also leaves us. From the University of Toronto and TCS (yea Ontario! ) came another energetic master instantly made famous by his love for English sheepdogs, elephants, Barbara Streisand, and the Queen. Mr. Lewis contributed greatly to Soccer, Hockey, Cycling, and many other facets of school life. We also wish him well in his future endeavors.

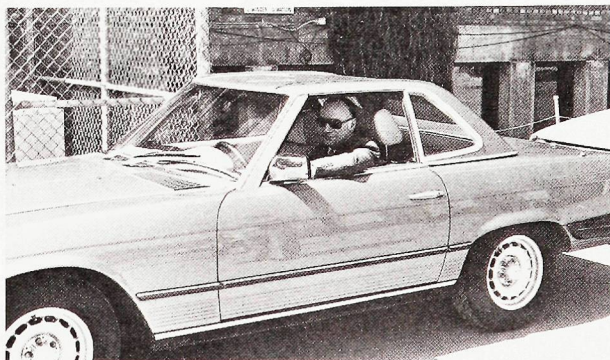

Mr. K. McCaffery

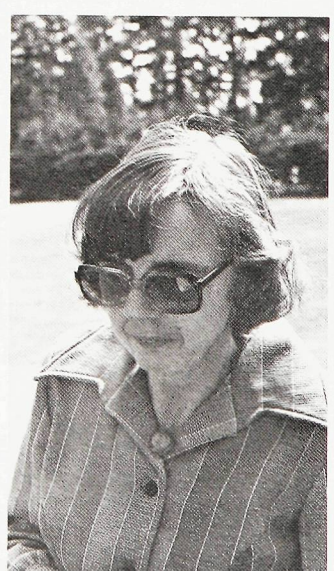

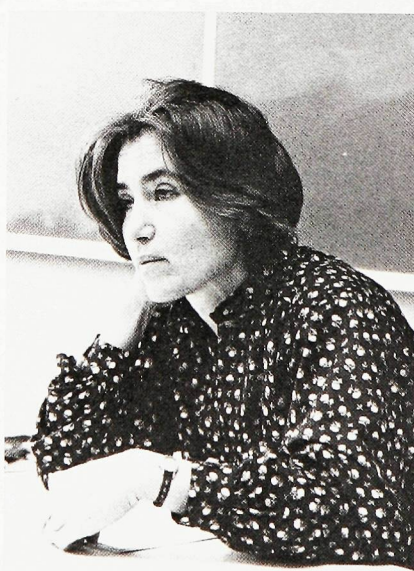

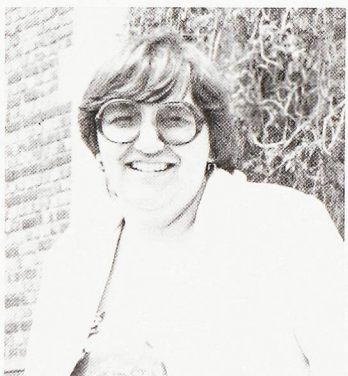

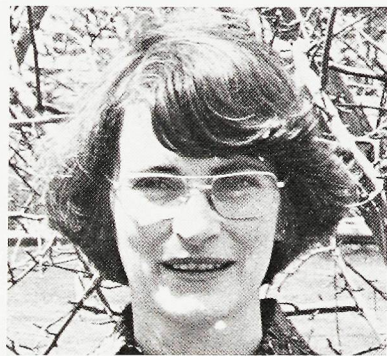

Mr. E. Detchon

Mr. J. B. Winder

Prefects

This year for the seven of us has been very different from those previous years for one reason. We wanted to try to accomplish something ideal and we found reality was our foe. Throughout the year we had unfortunate occurrences that reduced our number by four, something which has never happened before, and something which has left a "scar" on our minds. We directed our efforts to honesty and fairness and it is up to the students to judge our achievements this year. Some may say it was too hard and no fun but even though it was challenging, it has proved very rewarding. Rewarding not only to us, but hopefully to BCS. We all hope next year will flow more smoothly and that all the differences between the seventh formers and ourselves may be pushed aside so that BCS may move on to greater things. I AM proud of our group AND of BCS for standing up to its rights. Thanks to you all for giving us our opportunity, now it's yours.

One more thing...if we didn't make mistakes, we wouldn't be human.

Rob McCarter

Seventh Form

Evan Ballantyne 1974

The things I leave behind
Will disturb my piece of mind
But friendships linger on Long after I am gone.

Evan is leaving
But after he's gone
Will the ladies stop grieving
And will life carry on.

Linda Bishop 1976

"I thought it was a sparkle, but it was a tear". Bish bopped into Glass House last year from the big town of Sherby, and from the realms of Galt. In the past two years she's covered soccer, volleyball, basketball. She even risked life and limb to be greeted at the end of the ropes course by Dag during her strenuous two months of AT. The first half term she could be found hard at work struggling to get her 65 av. Well she got it and since then the desk hasn't yet passed the white glove test. We'll miss her Neiling in the choir stalls and we wish her luck in her future endeavours. Bye Bish.

Willa Black 1977

"Willing Willa" arrived at B. C. S., notebook and fountain pen in her sweaty little hands and soon realized that you didn't have to copy down the words of the Sunday sermon and have them memorized by Monday. Actually, it got sort of embarrassing when she would stand up and ask Rev. Roberts to repeat his last psalm so she could get it all down. Willa and her Paul Newman eyes (as she so often reminded us) were a big hit with the boys. (Unfortunately, not the boys Willa wanted). Anyhow, all the best to a great girl who will probably graduate from Radcliffe with a B. A. in fickleness.

Jane Boyle 1975

There is a good and bad to everything. My first two years I found all good at B. C. S. and this year I've found mostly bad. It's been a shock, I guess I never thought there could be. I'm finding it hard. I've made many good friends, who have made things a lot easier. Thanks, I love you all. It's time to move on and it couldn't have come at a better time. I've learned a lot about myself and others and I take with me the fond memories of B. C. S. and my friends.

Kate Brown 1975 Prefect

Our own Ethel Merman, both in body and voice, (just kidding Kate) was made prefect this year, though nobody seems to know why! Kate found it difficult "nailing" people because half the time she wished she could be joining the offenders! Kate and Ian (otherwise known as the Marquis de Sade), could often be found practicing . . . Kate's lines in the prefect's room. Seriously, Kate was a true dramatist and her contributions to choir, A. T. as an assistant instructor, and the yearly musical will be missed by all.

Don Brown 1975

TOP SECRET

CASE: Mission Impossible

CODE NAME: "Brownie"

I, President Nixon, estimate this individual as an example of the "American Dream"; hot-dogs, baseball, apple pie and Chevrolet. Mr. John Dean has emphasized to me personally that this character is a continual supporter of the United States as heard in the stirring Political Science classes with Mr. Romanado. These details have been submitted on tape. C. I. A. agents have also informed us of "Brownies" sly tackles, in football that is, the success of Alpine Skiing due to his Wheaties, and wishing words of wisdom in the British game of Rugby. Information has leaked out, however, from unknown sources as to the outcome of "The Pink Chiffon" mission that was to have included a male of Scarsdale residence in a castle under the alias name of "Beakie's Bird House". "Brownies" patriotism will thrive on as next year we submit him to an even more gruelling test at St. Lawrence University. We wish him luck in future missions. This tape will self-destruct in five-seconds. (But don't worry, Sam McGrudor has copies.)

Marc Brunelle 1977

Marc came from the tiny hamlet of Gagnon-Sur-Le-Lac and found it quite a change to be thrust into the bustling metropolis of Lennoxville.

Sentenced to McNaughton House, Marc had the advantage of rooming with the 'talkative' diplomatic envoy for Eastern Middle Asia. We all thought Marc was a quiet guy until the night of his seventeenth birthday on the Ontario trip when the true 'Frenchman' in him came out! You've made a lot of friends here Marc and we wish you all the best.

Steve Budning 1973

Spud, our token minority member of that ever popular religion, has been here since third form and funny, he hasn't changed a bit. His wide spectrum of activities range from trying to get out Chapel with the feeble excuse "It's against my religion", to cutting out ads from comic books for genuine vinyl elevator shoes. Seriously though, Spud's been a valuable asset to Senior Football and we wish him luck whether at University or in the backroom of 'Quad 39' (Got the plug in for your store, Steve. Where's my five bucks? )

Timothy Conlin 1977

Anything that can happen, will happen.
Murphy's Law
So look what happened to me!
your man from east of west.

Cynthia Crossen 1977

Ciné arrived at Bish with all the potential of a fine, upstanding young lady. Unfortunately, when she snatched one of our available men from right under our noses, all of that went out the window. Cynn timer could after be seen strolling around Gillard, a blank look on her face and a French-English dictionary in her hand.

'No thoughts, nothing' surprised us by actually being able to carry on an intelligent conversation and she wielded a mean field hockey stick on the field as well as off.

Seriously, Cynn timer was a friendly and true Bish Bop and her lyrical voice ( ? ) will be missed by all next year. Salut Ciné!

Victoria Doheny 1972

Dear Catherine,

I have been here six long years, but only three of them have been spent hacking around with you. We were always up to something, both good and bad, like those exotic faces and strange smiles. We will always stay close, in mind if not in body. Thank you Catherine for making these three years happy ones, but especially for being my friend.

"The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at the time of challenge and controversy."

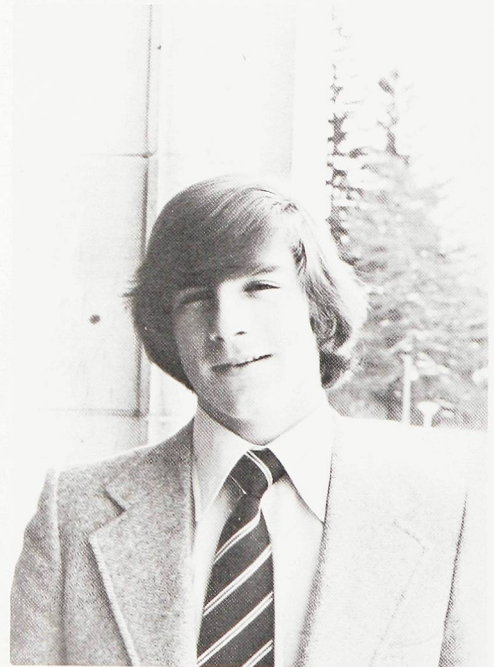

Martin L. King

Marc Duquet 1972

Marc came back this year to finish his half dozen years at B. C. S. As he grew up from second to seventh form, the girls still followed him . . . especially Danielle! ! Apart from being the back bone to the Senior Football team, he also contributed to many of the school's first teams. His good humour and friendship will be greatly missed next year as he attends Miami University.

Luc Duval 1972

Having been at B. C. S. for three quarters of his life, Luc was made prefect only because his parents have paid the Headmaster his salary five times over.

His almost fanatical obsession for 'Numero Cinq des Canadiennes' is almost as famous as his lust for . . .

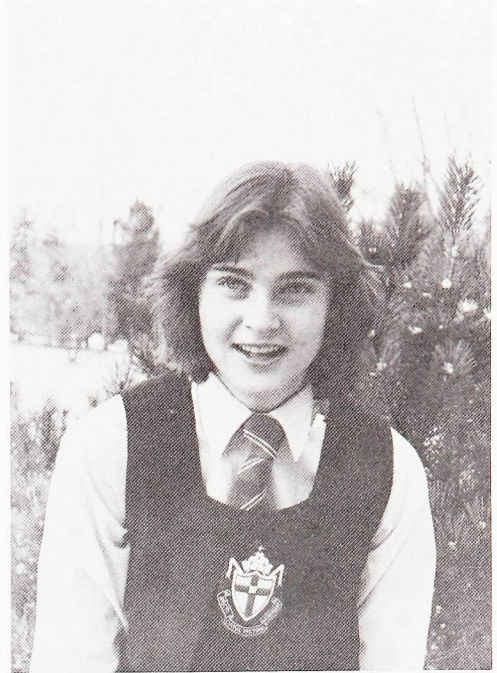

His protestations that he is not a Seperatist are somewhat doubtful as he struggles with the English language and tries to hide his 'Pepsi-Cola' pen and pencil set.

Seriously though, Luc's athletic ability on First Team Football, hockey, and rugby and his devotion to the school will be missed next year as he goes out to make his first million.

Carolyn Everson 1977

Craig Fields 1972

"It's easy to cry that you're beaten-and die;
It's easy to crawfish and crawl;
But to fight and to fight when hope's out of sight-
Why, that's the best game of them all!
And though you come out of each gruelling bout,
All broken and beaten and scarred,
Just have one more try-it's dead easy to die,
It's the keeping-on-living that's hard."

Robert Service

Jay Gilbert 1976

I challenged the mountain.
I climbed it and saw the view.
Thanks to those who helped me,
It was well worth the effort.

To you
Love me.

Nancy Glover 1977

Behrooz Hakim 1977

John Harley 1974

Who is he? John is the brilliant mathematician, scientist and student of pharmacognosy who resides in McNaughton House. John is the person responsible for some large pieces of cardboard that were crudely stuck up on the walls of McNaughton House which some dare call a mural. It's said he plays the guitar. This is questionable. He became a cross-country man and is the co-holder of a distance record in bisques. Harley has been with us for four years, and has yet to open his mouth, but those of us who know him wish him the best of luck for his future.

Shaun Henriques 1975

Shaun fought his way into Smith House many moons ago. He has since then cooled off considerably and has settled in a dormant stage. He has debated verbally and physically with his fellow students and Senior Master. Shaun's academic ability has had its ups and downs. As for his athletic prowess, Shaun played for junior and senior soccer, IHAM, cycling and has potential ability in track and field. He has also been involved in the choir from soprano to bass. Now in his last year he has been engaged in some foul play. Shaun has travelled many miles to acquaint us with his Jamaican-Reggae music.

Wendy Hueton 1974

"Blondes have more fun . . . So they say." It was four years of my life that I'll never forget. There were roomates who disliked my Eskimo habits of open windows, soccer seasons in the mud, suicidal workouts during track seasons, hours and hours in the discus pit, Adventure Training, long distance running at all hours of night and day, three years of fun and skiing on cross-country comp., nicknames like Sunshine, Serpico and Winkle, Cadets and precision squad and much more. Goodbye my friends, and thanks to you all for a great four years.

"But our good times are all gone,
And I'm bound for movin' on.
I'll look for you if I'm ever back this way."

Ian Tyson

Robert Hyndman 1973

Like a mirror held before me,
large as the sky is wide.
And the image is reflected,
Back to the other side.
Could it be that somebody else is looking into my mind? Some other place, somewhere, some other time?

A. Parsons

Janet Hutchison Prefect 1976

It's easy to understand why second formers have the nerve to ask 'Little' to go out with them. I mean she has brains, brawn, loads of character and is cute. Besides, she is already down at their level. On the more serious side Janet is one of the most noticeable people at B. C. S. (Not physically) She is a great athlete and never gives up. This follows into her incredibly high academic standards as well as all her activities which included being a prefect this past year. She did it all at B. C. S. and well. If you see a bush in center hall someday at B. C. S. don't fret, it's only Janet rolling by and don't you worry, Janet, there will always be high-heeled shoes in the world. Never stop smiling, Little, and come back soon.
Good luck and . . . thanks.

Heather Johnston 1976

This is the concluding episode of "As Chickie Turns". Formulated last year for the first time, B. C. S. could tune into its own soap-opera. The screenplay was written and directed by Chickie and was co-starred under the influence of "B and B"-not the scotch, but Bishop and Ballantyne. Dubbing was supervised by the experienced Webbie. Throughout the documentary such cinematic scenes were awarded "Best Attempt of the Year". They included bird watching at Beakie's Bird House (which ruffled many feathers), choir performances, an obvious attempt to get into Middlebury, scoring goals-in field hockey, that is, and giving lessons in table manners as exhibited in the Carnival Pizza Eating Contest. This stage of the career has come to an end but only to give her the experience necessary to direct another Citizen Kane.

Yukitaka Kurata Prefect 1974

Touki could usually be found sleeping in the Prefects' Room, often not being seen for days on end. Or walking through the illustrious halls of B. C. S. with a silly grin on his face, playing at being prefect and pretending to understand what was being said to him. (Or about him!) As a student, Yuki carried on in the true tradition of a B. C. S. resident by not being one. As one of the higher members of the B. C. S. cadet hierarchy, Yuki was usually found flogging some poor new student for failure to understand his orders. Seriously though, Yuki has benefitted from his stay here as we have from him and we wish him luck.

I think of childhood friends and the dreams we had.

Timothy Matthews 1976

Tim, our own true, genuine cowboy from the land of oil and cows "rolled" into B. C. S. and soon learned a few facts concerning boarding school life. First Tim learned that sleeping with his boots on was just not done. And secondly, when one loses his temper at a certain Yank, one does not rope and try to brand him. Seriously though, Tim contributed much to the school by his football and hockey expertise.(? ) His good-natured personality will be missed by all.
Good luck Tim!

Helen Morgan 1974

There are more things in Heaven and Earth than are dreamt of in your philosophy, B. C. S. Helen had many dreams in her four years-and realised some of them, but she also achieved more than we remember. Choir, Player's Club, Modern Dance, Academic Tie, Volleyball Captain. Stop, you sound run-of-the-mill, ordinary. No-we'll remember the quiet sincerity when it mattered, the gentle purpose, special friends-and the dentist! Above all, herself, yourself. A certain difference.

Robert McCarter Head Prefect 1974

One may ask himself how good the education at B. C. S. is. This has been the greatest learning experience of my life. My four years at B. C. S. have all been different and all of them somehow more enjoyable than the previous one. This year has given me more respect for other people and more pride than I'll probably gain over the next ten years. I've acquired life-long friends and learned more about how great a school B. C. S. really is for a student who is willing to give his best. You don't need to be a great student or a great athlete; just an honest human being. It's been great fun and I'll miss it terribly. Thank you B. C. S. for all the "Little" things that made my years so unforgettable.

Kathleen McGee Prefect 1974

From the booming city of Port Cartier, McGee entered B. C. S. and was soon enough recognized for her famous basketball action. Also the Captain of the Soccer Team, Kathy was certainly a very valuable player. This year, as a prefect, Kathy was liked by all for her kindness and understanding towards everybody. Kathy has quite a sense of humour . . . Who else can make Cine, her roommate, believe that the top of her Timex watch is her dried up contact lens'. Kathy has the annoying habit of comparing every place she goes with her home town. Look at all the people here! We wish you the best of luck wherever you may go.

Caroline Noyes-Roberts 1975

Denise Perron 1977

Talk of poems, prayers and promises, things that we believe in, how sweet it is to love someone, how right it is to care. How long it's been since yesterday, what about tomorrow, what about our dreams and all the memories we shared.

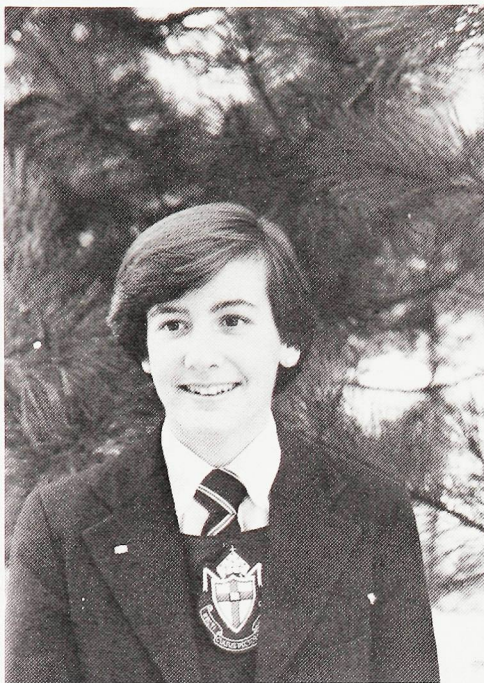

John Denver

Dear Caroline,

It's been three years. Only half of these have been spent with you and let me say they have been great. There were smiles and tears. Our test was not the good times but the bad. We made it. You will always remain close to my heart. Thank you for the good times, especially for being my friend, "Don't look back and be sad but look back and be happy we had such good times" Luv J. B.

"Oh Piglet! " said Pooh, "We're going on an expotition, all of us, To discover something." "To discover what? " said Piglet, "Oh just something". "Nothing fierce? " "No, Christopher Robin just said it had an 'X'."

Karma Price 1977

What a PRICEless girl we have here and that is a MATter of fact! Karma came to B. C. S. for 7th form only. It was unfortunate that we couldn't have had her for longer because she's one of the most enthusiastic people around. It never failed, rain, sleet or hail, Karma never missed one senior boys' soccer game and she surely won't miss a senior hockey game either. Good ole Karma would always be out there rah-rahing in her slicker and Billy boots. Karma was the star of intramural soccer and was, without a doubt, the M. V. P. (Most Vivacious Player) She is now on the senior girls' basketball team (mind you, no cuts were made! ) In choir, she'd sing solos during practice-rrrip! Remember? Look out Western . . . or whatever!

Bruce Rodeck Prefect 1973

Bruce? Bruce Who? Oh I know him. He's the walking encyclopedia. Oh yes quite mature, Bruce (Ha! Ha! You sure fooled them). Bruce calmly strutted into the prefects' room and then exploded. We thought we would never hear the end of his drum role or about his fantastic tackles on first team football. Thank God hockey season's over, we almost lost our heads with his practice slap shots in the prefect's room. When spring sprung Bruce did too, right up the Mountains with the rest of Adventure Trainers but going down the other side was torture to our ears hearing Bruce practice next Sunday's anthem and saying "a good head chorister has to set a good example" Bruce, you'll set a good example where ever you go. K. V. B.

Daniel Scheunert 1973

Five years have come and gone and a lot has happened. Do as I say, not as I do.

Giulio Schiff Prefect 1976

Giulio, our resident male model (so he thinks) arrived at B. C. S. two days after the scent (stench) of his cologne did. Giulio, has since established himself as a prefect who has been voted "prefect who most looks like a prefect should". Often seen running down the hall looking terribly official, Giulio took time off from trying hard to debonair to be a star soccer player. We'll miss "Lasagna Boy" next year.

NEWSFLASH

. . . We are sorry to disturb your regular reading but we have just received this important news bulletin from our headquarters in Lennoxville. This is Walter Duquet for S. H. T. V. The headline is: "Red-Headed Boy Invades B. C. S."

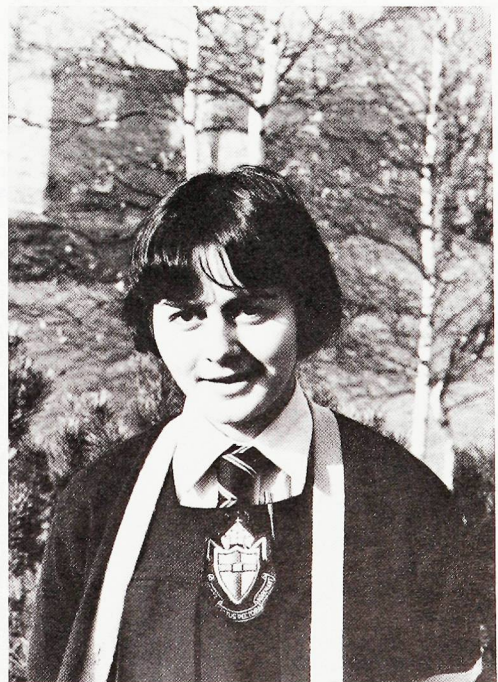

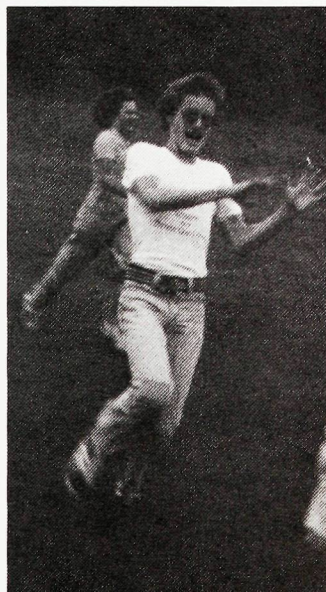

It all began when Set came to school
Hoping to find a zitty young fool
He followed a sign which said "Gillard's Nest"
And it led him to Cynnie who showed him her best
The coaches were surprised
When his great speed opened their eyes

Then quick as hell, he let out a yell
"T'sais veut dire, man! "
This only proves that a crazy red-headed frenchman can be successful in a school like B. C. S.

Now for the weather with Jack Sprat.

Susan Sourial 1976

Some of the days pass too slowly, others too quickly.

I'd like to say more
Before I walk out the door
But I can't find a reason
It's not the right season
So I guess I'll just go
Before someone says no.

Catherine Williams 1975

Dear Vicky,
I came to B. C. S. three years ago and from those years I'm taking away with me one special thing- your friendship. All that we've been through together are memories I'll never forget- Coffee Houses, cocktail parties? ! How could I? A friend like you is something that won't go when I leave B. C. S. We'll always stay close- thank you Vick- for everything. "To live with memories of what we left is not to have left at all".

Susan
Armstrong
1977

Michael Austin 1973

Sue arrived this year at B. C. S. after giving her "eye teeth" to get here. Destined from the beginning to lead the life of a day student, she found a home away from home in Glass House. This winter she fulfilled her goal of being on a team by "playing her tootsies off" in senior volleyball. Sue makes everyone laugh by getting her thumb caught in coffee cups and just generally making us feel better at the right times. We hope to see you back next year.

"Be what you would seem to be"-or, if you'd like it put more simply-"Never imagine yourself not to be otherwise than what it might appear to others that what you were or might have been was not otherwise than what you had been would have appeared to them to be otherwise".

Belle Ballantyne 1977

Even though Belle was a new girl this year she seemed to blend in quite well. Her favorite pastime: choir or is it lines for Mr. McClintock? Belle has done some good. She was on Senior Field Hockey and Basketball. In the spring she was corrupted and took intramurals. Belle will be here next year to keep up the Ballantyne tradition. One last word of advice, SMILE!

Timothy Ballantyne 1973

Tim, Timothy or Veg is quite a guy. He is one of the select members of the 100 Club. The class distinctions between forms never managed to bother him. The American Dream has contributed much to B. C. S. He played Rugby, Soccer, IHA, was a sergeant in Cadets, an infirmary monitor and was found lurking in the Pound. He will return next year to keep up the Ballantyne tradition.

Gilles
Beaudin

Janet
Bentzen
1975

Janet comes from the wilds of Sand Hill where she is driven to school by her maniac chauffeur. (Ever seen a chauffeur driven snowmobile? ) Janet has been tripping around B. C. S. for three years. She has played on junior and senior soccer and even senior volleyball. (About time, eh? ) Janet enjoys throwing things around. Remember the mug out the window, the tie out the window, Cally out the window . . . She also wishes that this article would go out the window. Good luck next year and we know you'll enjoy yourself.

Eric
Boyd
1974

Laurie
Boyd
1976

Eric arrived at B. C. S. in 1974 and found his roommate to be Charlie Beudet. Eric graduated from the rooms of Grier House and its beats from "Mr. Price" to the love beat of the third bomb Tina Pinck and the other rooms of Gillard House. Fourth form found Eric down on the bottom of Ausable Chasm with Sue Hibbard. The bus trip down with grape juice and Rice Krispies really showed a turn of events on that trip, didn't it Eric. In sixth form a relapse showed his real mate Tina Pinck to be his true companion. A jock without equal, he played Hockey, Soccer, and Rugby. A resident member of McNaughton House you could see him coming in late for Prep dishing out all kinds of excuses. Times have been close, but fours years is enough and out into the world he goes.

Foxy Lady Laurie, Queen of Hearts . . . . . Diamonds, Clubs and Spades, has played her cards well since her eventful arrival at B. C. S. From Sr. field hockey and Sr. volleyball to her dynamic portrayal of mother-tyrant Mrs. Baker in 'Butterflies Are Free', Laurie has contributed excellent efforts in all areas of involvement. Her 'wussiness' has been beneficial to all of us.

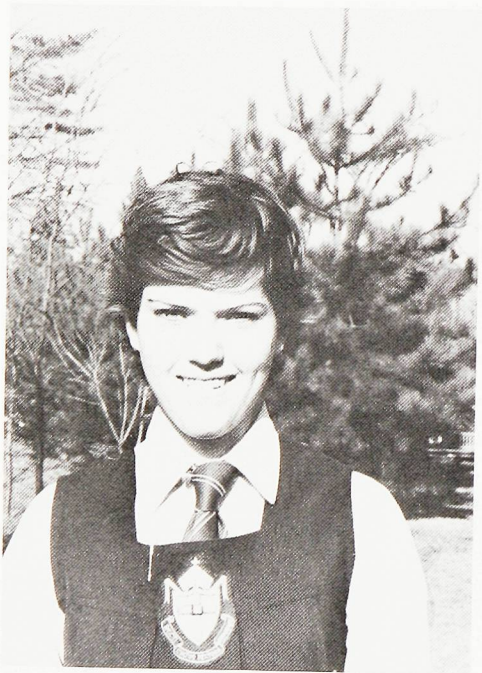

Let's not forget those friendly jaunts to T. T., Chemistry class, Jr. Hockey Games, play practice, copyright on the word "Wuss", Laverne, Shirley, and Swiggy and trying to keep her mind off her distractions in New York, Toronto, and Maine. We're looking forward to seeing her again next year in the "SPECIAL SECTION" of Gillard. Continue to progress, Laurie continue to win.

P. S. Long live a fellow conservative and Queen of the Wusses.

Love "S and E"

Christopher Candow 1977

Chris sped into B. C. S. with hopes of being O. J. Simpson. As it turned out, he was something slightly less. As skiing season began Chris got us full of expectations of being the next Jean-Claude Killy. Unfortunately, he didn't show Miss Hutton a great running ability, and he joined the ranks of the IHA.

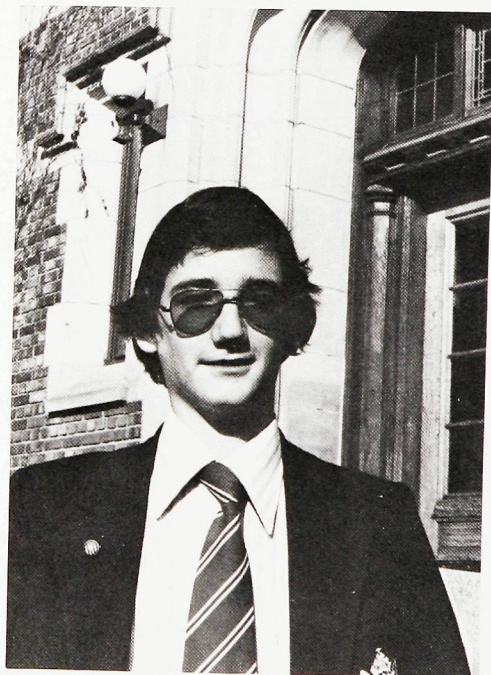

Chris was also one of the ten best dressed men in pink clothes. However, people soon realized that he isn't such a bad guy as long as you don't call him "Pinky".

Liza Boyle 1976

Dear Liza,

It's been said that B. C. S. is what you make it, well, you made it the right thing. There were smiles and tears. You made some mistakes but your mistakes have made you what you are today and there is nothing wrong with that. You added a great deal to school life, house spirit and the teams you were on, thanks. We all wish you the best always and keep smiling cause it makes others smile!

John Bryson 1976

John alias Bryson fell into B. C. S. life and was instantly greeted by a Smith House Tradition. Later John found a certain Australian a little too tough for him, remember flipping John in front of Stanstead. Oh, well, then came winter and cross-country skiing, the only record John broke that season was four pairs of skis . . . in two weeks. Many say it was due to "forest frolicking". John's activities include X-country skiing, running, cycling, magazine, choir, and doing the bump with Gurt. John resides in the suite with ear-ittating Dougie and his "Ding Dong" stories and 'no man is an island' Setlakwe. Best of luck and we hope to see you back again.

Richard Clinton 1976

Christiane Clermont 1974

Christiane came here four years ago not knowing much English. But she learned fast and made it through the first year. After new Student line her first year Chris got used to going to breakfast early. Think, if you come back you can butt in line. Hope to see you next year. Till then keep the smile on.

Caro
Creighton
1976

"Don't ever tell anybody anything. If you do you start missing everybody".

This article is written in the Acts according to Glass House, taken from the room, beginning at Grade 10. The one who burpeth the loudest and wears the purple and white polka dotted ribbon in the hair she constantly tries to convince everyone is beautiful, watch out its Caro and she has 47 others. Her 'diet' consists of cream cheese from Montreal, eggs from Toronto and Doritos from a merry land. Caro is also never without her vass (regardless of public opinion that is common! ) Getting down to the nitty gritty, Caro contributed her talents to volleyball, basketball, soccer and girls' rugger. She's a member of the Dining hall comm. and has gone through two years of Choir. "Naaice", Smelly Buttons, "Joan" full blast, "Dirty Way" Gimme a break and "What a hunk of Tuna" can frequently be heard coming from her and Webbies humble abode. Caro, we can't possibly sum you up in one paragraph but here's to trying. CHEERS! Later! ! Oxwilma and Sig!

Time should not be wasted but used on useful things or thoughts, so why not sleep on it!

"Dicky Boy"

Brent Dorion 1976

Brent, our very own true-to-life super stud (so he says), arrived at B. C. S. and immediately increased the school's electricity bill with his blow dryer, make-up mirror with surrounding light bulbs and curling iron. Brent found B. C. S. difficult to adjust to, as well as its terminology. He thought 'prep' was the time at night when you got ready to go out, and thought 'crease' were the nasty little wrinkles in his suit. Seriously though he was a great asset to Senior Football and he also made IHA second line. See Ya next year, Cutie!

Alain Dumais 1973

"Yogi" has developed into one of the great characters of the school since he arrived in second form. Mr. Dutton loves his trick of putting a pin through his cheek and Mr. Campbell likes the way he puts plastic in the Chem. Study oven. He is one of the few people to have a different roommate every year. Right now he is sharpening up his blocking skills for first team football next year. Yogi got himself into good shape this year by picking apples and sawing logs for Mr. Badger. We expect to see Yogi and his Hockey Skills again next year. Fifth in the Cross-country Yogi?

Michael Ford 1975

Mike spends his nine months from September to June vacationing at B. C. S. He has enjoyed his past three years basking in Canadian history and distinguishing himself in the famous Lemming team as goalie. His after supper strolls to town talk have always been the highlight of his day. Nevertheless, always cheerful. Mike will continue to work ( ? ) and prosper at B. C. S. Good luck!

Ian
Goodwin
1976

John
Hallward
1975

'Howie' came in fourth form as 'a typical Selwyn Houser' and was plunged into the B. C. S. life. He needed no initiation. Rooming with two 'old hands' Mosely and Dumais was initiation enough. It didn't take long for John to prove his worth at the school. His latest ways of saving money or marks gained him respect both as a Senior in Williams House and a leader in the school. Howie has still not revealed what he does on his squash trips (work? ), but insists it's still the best crease to take. We know Our All-Canadian ( ? ) boy will be back next year. See you then. (Ever heard of VIIIth Form? )

Susan Hibbard 1973

Sue is a true Bish Bop, one of the only two girls that had enough guts to stay here since second form. Maybe if we all spent our vacations on sunny beaches in Florida we could hack it too. Ever faithful to McNaughton housers she kept a "Sharky" lookout for prefects, thank "Kevin" for that! "Evan" though she now has "graduated" she still remains loyal. Sue manages to sweetly take things easy while still playing Senior Soccer, Squash, and I think she runs too, and taking up hems on her tunics Dag-nabbit and I almost forgot-she likes blue eyes, blonde hair and moustaches too. 50 hours is quite a price to pay for just being "Elite". Sue did you curl your hair this morning? Smile, Susie! We'll see you around!

Jamie Holden 1977

Jamie (Jump Me or Hold Me) Holden came to B. C. S. and ended up in Williams House. For a while he had all of us thinking he had left school but one day someone saw him in the infirmary. It must have been the purple pajamas they saw. Like a spider, he tried to get a Cob "Web". He also enjoyed climbing trees and sending smoke signals to the Indians. Somehow, he found the time to become an actor, squash player and football player (? ) He had a gay time with his neighbors in Williams. Good luck and we'll see you later.

Jean-Yves Houle 1976

Jean-Yves "The Pep" arrived in fifth form directly from Princeville. At first he didn't know more than yes and no in English. Pep was not known until the hockey season started. Because of his size, Pep was not expected to make the team but when he stepped on the ice everyone saw that he was something special. Pep with his "Bauer skates" would fly like a rocket on the ice. After a few games people started to call him "Rejean" which relates to Rejean Houle of the Canadiens. His funny phrases and famous smiles kept the Senior Hockey team spirit going strong. This year Jean-Yves can speak English fluently and we hope he will be back next year.

Carolyn Hutchison 1977

Carol came to B. C. S. this year ready to do it all. Despite a bum ankle, she played hard and gave spirit to the Senior Soccer and Senior Volleyball teams. She was on the Activities Committee, in Choir and had a short-lived career in cheerleading. Hutch's motto is "It's fun", and she lives by it whether she is in Physics class or at Coffee Houses. Her laugh and her cute round cheeks make everyone else laugh too. Her other talents include macrame, and getting soft boiled eggs at Breakfast. (Pretty lucky, eh? ) What else do you have left to do here, Carol? Her shy smile tells you that there's lots of things. We'll be anxious to see Hutch in action next year.

Sarah Ivory 1976

"Silence is Rotten"

Sarah has left an unforgettable imprint on the atmosphere . . . or is it the climate, of B. C. S. Upon arrival, she quickly developed her reputation, but only Alex knows for sure! Sarah, with her matching ribbons, and her motor mouth, has kept well in tune with the gossip. If only she'd grow as much as she talks! ! In sports, well . . . at least in the class room she rated. Cherished memories will always include: her dedication to the southern end of the Dining Hall, Midnight bashes, Intramurals, Bates, Tuck, tuck and more tuck, and last but not least the constant affair with a certain "Special Friend"! What can we say Sarah, . . . Well, you tried!

Fern Jeffries 1977

'Whenever I see your smiling face I have to smile myself'

This really portrays how Fern was during her first year here, because she made everyone around her happy. As Raggedy Andy she didn't need a smile painted on her face, it was always there. This American came to us from that big metropolis of 'Altuna'? Fern brought with her enthusiasm and a great effort in academics, which proved successful. She always participated in activities and made a good time of whatever it was. Fern contributed to the choir and made it enjoyable too. How can you help but laugh when she's playing charades in the opposite stall, eh? eh? During her free time (whatever free time she had) we found her practicing flute, listening to the radio, and receiving exciting phone calls and letters. Well Fern, I'm glad to know you're coming back next year, and can't wait to see you then.

Jennifer Jonas 1976

A Chinaman of the Tang Dynasty--and by which definition a philosopher --once dreamed he was a butterfly and from that moment on he was never quite sure he was not a butterfly dreaming it was a Chinese philosopher.

David Keeley 1975

Snappy bekk-bekked his way into B. C. S. three years ago. Since then he has astounded us with many feats. The most spectacular one is being able to drink four glasses of anything in ten seconds. He came to us directly from "The School" to become "Pizza" king of Smith House. Over the years he has become Mr. Campbell's favourite Chem. Study student. Snappy is also quite an athlete; he has played snap (naturally) in football for three years in a row and is always willing to share a few stories about how great he is. He has risen steadily from mighties to first line in I. H. A. He hopes to make a name for himself in Senior Rugby this spring. We can all be thankful that Snappy will be back next year to give out laps as the senior on duty in Smith House.

Matthew Kenny 1974

Stephen Kouri 1976

Matthew came here in third form, liked what he saw, and decided to grow an extra six inches. He has stood tall in our community ever since, and he will continue to do so, because Matthew is the type of person that everyone looks up to, not just because he is tall. Matthew has been on First Team Soccer and Hockey, and he cycles around the Townships in the Spring. Being the head of the Brass Band, and the lead in the School Play, he really enjoys returning to his room for a while. You really can't say anything bad about Matt, because that would ruin his reputation, and that wouldn't be good. Right? ??????????????????????????????????????

Lorne Kreol 1975

He will draw you a picture, he'll sing you a song.
 Something to illustrate? It won't take him long.
 He'll work for the school, and put it on ice,
 He'll poste you a poster and make it real nice.
 Around the house he's a really good guy,
 He gives you support and he doesn't ask why.
 He's the backbone of Chapman, and it's hands and it's feet.
 Some think he's crazy, but I think he's neat.
 The catch to our friend is the choice of his noise.
 It's the sound of that 'Rocky' that gets to us boys.
 Arnie's his name, he's the cream of the crop,
 We here in Chapman hope his fun doesn't stop.

Hughes Landry 1975

Yogi eased into fourth form life and soon found time for extra 'hours' of work. A veteran of many school teams, this year Yogi made it to the top. Yogi's biggest single accomplishment is his obvious savoir-faire with les femmes, that great french charm he is so well known for. The 'Hope' that the fabulous frenchman will return for one last year is shared by many. Salut Yogi . . . Ribet (french for Ribbit).

Robert Lee 1974

Edward Leefe 1976

Edward migrated South to the Bird House last year from Truro, N. S. With him came many new ideas which he has since tried to force on B. C. S. His ultra conservatism has led to many late night debates in the bathroom and commonroom. Edward returned this year with a vengeance, contact lenses, new clothes and a new image, almost comparable to that of his roommate. Since his arrival Ed has been deeply involved in school life, from Agora and choir, to "Butterflies Are Free". Thank God the chance of Ed leaving B. C. S. are as good as the conservatives winning the federal election

Cathy Lessard 1977

Cathy rolled into B. C. S. on a Lessard Cruiser. Her soccer team-mates quickly gave her the nickname 'Bus'. After being a townie for years she easily adjusted to the life of a Pab. Cathy's once enjoyable weekends have been dulled from the fear of membership in the 50's Club. But this doesn't stop her from having "Mr. Bateman's Girls" for dinner (he never did phone). During Bus' first year she has constantly been absent Mondays (Cadet Blues) Don't forget History class-drool, drool! We all hope to see you back next year. "I've got a qwada you can borrow Webbie".

Nancy Mair 1976

Nancy is famous for many things around B. C. S., the least of these her demure laugh and calm hands. She is reknowned for her intimacy with the Spanish Connection, her well-practiced shooting ability and her anniversary presents. "She is a great believer in aiding the digestion by taking long walks after dinner." She was also one of the only New Girls to win status in the Old Boys' Directory. She is a devoted fan of Mr. Evans and of Ms. Mo's laps (for various reasons). This year she surprised us all by making Jr. Field Hockey. The date that means the most to her is Dec. 17, or is that 18? Only the St. Sauveur toll police know for sure. My Ear can be quite a good girl when she isn't out proving herself as Bonnie with Clyde (we don't like taxis anyway). Smile Nance, it's good for your molecules!

Doug Mitchell 1973

Dimpleface Dougie is one of the young old boys who have been here since second form. Occupying the best room of Smith House he invites us all to visit him for one of his midnight parties. Known for many things besides his infamous sexy legs, Doug tries to be hateful, but he finds it impossible because of his cute face. Finally, Doug has got going, just learning that Glass House exists. Doug finished the season being the leading scorer on Senior girls' basketball.

Tammy
Moore
1977

"No it's not a triplet with Chris and Fiona," it's Tammy (no relation at all). She soon found herself a position on first team Soccer, playing in the midfield mud. Shortie even made the basketball team along with her side kick Buss. So Tam, what do you think of the marking system compared to Galt's? 46, 48 and even a 50. We hope to see you back next year and don't forget the "townie" spirit . . . and "Moore".

Milton
Morales
1975

Beleive it or not, Milton has been in B. C. S. for the past three years. Hard worker, serious, and with a hardly audible laugh, not many people knew Milton til it came time for sports, where he really made a good name for himself (Senior Football, Rugby . . . you name it! ) Even at Orford he performed well on skis, that's if you were able to find him in all that snow! As to girls, Milton never got too involved (congratulations Sarah! Brrrrrrr! ! ! ) Good bye and good luck, Milton, wherever you happen to go next year. The Connection's cloister will miss you! ! ! !

Sigrid Morch 1975

Even though Gurt came from the metropolis of Picton, she fitted extremely well into Quebec life, as her favourite thing is a frog. A collector of large things for example: earrings, W. C. Fields posters, and dried apricots (shared . . . excuse me, eaten by Caro! ) a tampooned, I mean harpooned plastic seal, but most important, "Prince Rick", that four and a half foot frog won at the fair back home! He's real good lookin'! ! Gurt received nightly phone calls from a certain fuzzy haired male. Lil, Arnie, Traveller, like what's the story? Many empty bottles clutter her room amongst thousands of trashy novels, Willer, Cass, and 253 fifth formers on Holly's side. Siggy was ever faithful to the choir, the play, and Rick. Catch ya later Gurt.

Timothy Moseley 1973

Tim has been here as long as the memory can stretch. I think he and Mr. Patriquin are in competition to see who can write the History of Bishops better—"Remember when Henry did . . . ! " But besides Tim's stories he still keeps the suck tie flying high, not hard for a guy with a big head. Other little things that Tim is known for are his Mastering the art of Computer language, selling of world wide newspapers, and nipping under the legs of a B. C. S. crowd to come up in the front of the line . . . still laughing. And that is the way everybody will remember Tim—still laughing.

James MacDonald 1974

When James came to B. C. S., he started a reputation as a quiet, calm person who reads lots of articles, shows movies and manages to be in the choir for four years. But actually, he was secretly planning a school revolution with Fee. For a year, he lived in Grier House, and then he was sent to the jungles of Chapman. But all the time, he was secretly hoping to get kicked out but being so innocent of the evils of life, that never happened. Now it seems he will get his chance to leave. Good luck.

Willa MacDougall 1975

Willa . . . Willer . . . Wilbur . . . Wilburita, but never Wilma, keeps Glass House in mild hysterics. (Understatement) A dramatic flair in true Vivian style. Her favourite bed partners, Chiltern and Owl, an obsession with Chianti Ruffino bottles and Kahlua. Always the last to bed and the last out of the house but don't worry Wilma, oops Willa, we've heard it's fashionable to be late, eh S. T.? There is a first time for everything and this year Wilbur has become a weenie bit dopey with Caro and Gurt. Her "loud" enthusiasm is catching (has been caught) and her invaluable contributions to the choir and the play have not gone unnoticed. Say cheese Montgomery! ! ! (between Willa's voluptuous . . . lapels) See you on the slopes "Viv"! ! (Does she ski! ! )

Duncan McDougall 1976

Duncan, roommate of Howie, Measley and Brownie, came to us not completely destitute two years ago, but with a good knowledge of squash which he enjoys so much. This iron faced soccer player unfearful of size of foe, spent Monday and Friday nights at choir and enjoyed it! This ever loving, always cheerful optimist somehow ended up with a reputation of being a "Frugal" McDougall (who knows how? ) Long live a man who has achieved recognition in all his areas of involvement and who has added great spirit . . . even if he did miss the point a couple of times.

Leslie Nakash 1976

Leslie is our imported beauty from Jamaica and what a doll! Too bad guys, she's already taken. She tripped in B. C. S. last year and is now an experienced Bish Bop with all the enthusiasm she can afford. Leslie has a smile for everyone that shows how friendly and considerate she is. She may not like cross-country running but her other skills make up for that. Her position in choir was unpredictable. Mr. Bevan wanted her to be an alto, the boys wanted her in tenor but she sang soprano. If you don't come back next year we're sure going to miss you but no matter what you do, we'll always be thinking of you.

Doris
Oes
1974

The quiet dancer, Doris stuns us with her fabulous talents in ballet, jazz and modern dance. She also shows weird posters that seem to watch you and her hundreds of multi-coloured T-shirts. Doris' favourite saying is "... but I don't understand" as she pulls off higher than average marks. Good luck in dancing and some day you'll probably dance with R. N.

Christina
Pinck
1974

Tiny Tina hasn't grown much since she arrived in third form. But she sure is prettier, eh Eric? Boy, what a difference a couple of years make ... They say that Tina has a fetish for guys with curly or wavy hair, next! Wow, four years, how many girls can boast a record, (or a figure) like that? And what a jock. Sr. Soccer and Basketball, it seems we've got a winner, folks. Three cheers for the blonde Bomber who hopefully will zoom back into Gillard's "Special" section again next year.

Mark Randle 1976

Mark, or as he's better known, Gramps, will always be remembered for his flashy style of dress; especially his somewhat dignified blue polyunsaturated custom made for the Enthusiastic Shuffleboard player, jacket. (only kidding Gramps, er Mark) Mark could often be seen strolling around the school house looking for a friend or at least a junior that he could 'gun' to death. Seriously though, Mark was a great addition to football and hockey first teams and we'll miss him next year. Good ..... bye .....

Wilfred Reedijk 1975

The Wolfman, Wilf or just plain Fred, decided as a Day Student to impose his rock-hard ideals and concentrated criticisms on us all in the year Nineteen Hundred and Seventy Five. Wilf has been around a longer time than people think. He performed most of the acrobatic stunts in putting "Butterflies Are Free" together as well as assistant house manager, set construction manager and lighting man. All the best of luck next year Wilf.

Keith Rodeck 1974

When you want to succeed in sport, you have to work hard, play hard and laugh a lot; ask Keith.

When you want to succeed in work, you have to work hard, play hard and laugh a lot; ask Keith.

When you want to succeed in extra curricular activities, you have to work hard, play hard, and laugh a lot; ask Keith.

When you want to develop a wide range of friends that find you truthful and still smiling, you have to work hard, play hard, and laugh a lot; ask Keith.

When you want to learn to cheat everyone dear to you, take advantage of your friends, and beat the system, don't even bother with Keith.

Jane Roots 1975

Some people set their sights higher than others. Jane really has though, like halfway up Mt. McKinley! At school she's managed to prove herself many times over: choir, Players Club, activities committee, DHD, supply shop and cadets. Winning the X-country 3 times and her participation in first teams has shown her athletic abilities.

Any other hidden talents? Well, she is a good conversationalist, right sir? Without her, the school would be 'root-less'. This is for you Jane, hoping some day you'll realize just how much you have meant to us.

Jennifer Shaw 1977

Robert Setlakwe 1974

This year Jennifer brought to BCS all the qualities she acquired in Scotland. She loves boys' contact sports, but she contributed to the Sr. Field Hockey & Volleyball teams. In her spare time she practiced the guitar and had tuck attacks. Great having you, hope to see you back!

'Sette' arrived 4 years ago from the asbestos mines of Thetford. He became a full time resident of the Zoo. There he roomed with Beaudet for 2 years. Sette counts many girls among his friends, namely ? . Also, he was the first mighty of the week! We expect to see him back to pursue his goal of Harvard!

Sarah Stairs 1975

The first thing Sarah noticed about B.C.S. was that there weren't many people called Chris or Greg. So, she went into all Sciences, seemingly resigning herself to a quiet (?) social life. Those of us who knew Prunie knew better - (does anyone know how she got that name? ) Beneath the blonde hair, blue eyes and freckles lurks.....well that's for Carriacou to find out next year.

Danièle Simard 1973

If you love something set it free,
If it comes back, it's yours,
If it doesn't, it never was.

Stefan Stiegler 1973

Twig, Stef, or Trucker, has been at BCS since, well, I can't remember but he was here when I came. He was the fearless manager of Sr. Soccer, an IHA almost all-star, and a great competitor in Competition Gardening. He was a Stage crewer, Social servicer, and an all-around good guy. Wherever he goes I hope he keeps on truckin'!

Tara Stoker 1976

Tara came to BCS in 5th form and since then has established quite a name. Always a fanatic for getting her wash done and a constant wonder to us all with her refusal to mention the word 'horse'. She is also very kind..... she manages to keep lost (little) Vth form boys tucked under her wing. A conscientious goalie for Sr. Field Hockey, Tara could be seen waiting in breathless anticipation for a chance to stop the ball. Her other athletic abilities include Rugby, Volleyball, and basketball.

Tara always manages smiles through trouble and always manages to come out on top.

Keep going, Tara.....you're great!

Alison Stuchbery 1974

Alison.....what would we do without you? Come to think of it, what would THEY do without you. A sweet and innocent smile can get you far in life. BJQ tried something else.

Suck ties.....Gypsy.....Bye Bye Birdie.....Field Hockey..... Intramural All Star.

What else can we say? .....the answer is blowing in the wind.

Steve Tabah 1977

Steve came to BCS and quietly slipped into the woodwork of Williams House. He became landlord of the New Student ghetto and when the hot water ran out, Steve disappeared. He is very quiet, except in pillow fights.

Good luck wherever you go and if you come back even better luck as a one year veteran.

Roger Theberge 1974

Roger came to BCS with the idea of working hard and getting good marks. Unfortunately, his lazy character disillusioned him. "Roger" was unknown until he won the Junior Cross Country. From then on, he was known as "Tinari the Second". Roger's motto during Prep was "Laziness and chess mean Happiness". Roger (also nicknamed Frenchie, Jackrabbit) was also known for: TRYING to show off on First Team Soccer, winning the Senior Cross Country and playing basketball in his spare time. We wish Roger luck wherever he runs to next year.

Francisco Viniegra 1975

Frank, Spicy or Franco arrived at Williams House in Fourth Form. With him he brought an assortment of new ideas (and you should have seen his shirts). Who would have thought of bringing a chicken to roast on a Cadet camping trip? Our boy, Frankie. Aside from being a valuable player on Senior Soccer, we never really saw Frank (but Tracy did) except at Coffee Houses or at the notorious back table. Since his arrival, he can always be counted on when there is artistic work to be done (be it snow sculptures, Carnival buttons, or posters). What will we do without him next year?

Harro Von Reuss 1977

The Von Reusses shipped Harro to BCS this year, so he could learn English. Wait till they find out that is not all he learned. This fall Harro made it as No. 1 replacement on Sr. Soccer (the only one). He did some good for the team, though, he had a loud cheer. His winter sport is hockey. Unfortunately, he didn't make Sr. Hockey, for a minor reason: he can't skate. Well, anyway, he was promoted to IHA third line as a permanent obstacle. He may not be an all-around athlete, but he is a good friend. Well, Harro, good luck, and may you succeed in all your future endeavours (in other words, goals, but NOT as in hockey).

Catherine Webster 1975

Catherine Ann Webster slalomed her way into BCS and picked up the name Webby. She played on both Sr. and Jr. soccer teams, did well with her T&F talents, and all her hard work in skiing was paid for by her coming first in the zone last year. Webby was an active member of the 50's club, and in cadets even got promoted as high as Sgt. Major. In Glass House, you could always tell when Webby was around. Just follow your ears; it's the room with the vibrating walls because of the loud tunes of her beloved 'Joan'.

Webby's favorite pastimes, other than being obnoxious (I mean studious) were getting her sexy legs mangled, getting her crease clothes covered in mud, and rising early in the morning to go skiing. Keep up the good work, Webbie, we'll see you next year, and remember Bish, Caro, Bus, Tam, Gurt, Willa & Ken all have a 'quarter' you can borrow.

Caroline Younger 1974

Bozo came here 4 years ago. She's played soccer, but she reffed those locker room battles in the Sr. level only. She could be seen racing through the halls so Mr. Trower wouldn't catch her skipping crease.....again! This year, X-C skiing turned her on. I wonder why? Maybe it's those long creases in the woods. Caroline seems to think she won't be back next year, but we all know her heart won't let her.....right, JVB?

Campbell Webster 1977

Max rolled into BCS this year, and even then he didn't do much rolling, because it's hard to roll with that kind of physique. He took part in AT this fall and thoroughly enjoyed it. He was a member of IHA, which brings me to one of Campbell's claims to fame..... "If you don't keep your feet in and stop sharpening your pencil, you'll be in a lot of trouble!" Well, lookout people, cuz this skinny half-Guatemalan is not as naive as he looks. By the way, well done, Mercutio.

Barry
Younkie
1976

Barry the bird, Dad, or whatever profound and enlightening name you want to call him, has been here two years. Barry loves everyone, and everyone loves Barry, or so he thinks (Give them the root, they want it! ). Barry is an excellent skier, football player, and all-around jock. He is just as renowned for his girls as for his sports. Strike 3 and you're out! Be careful, the count is 3 and 2. In all seriousness, Barry, you're one of the greatest guys in McNaughton. Good luck next year, P.S. keep on perching?

David Zaccour 1976

'Zac' dropped into McNaughton where, unfortunately for him, the school's most proficient initiationists were present. He survived through the year, though, trying to keep up with BCS life, yet between classes and New Student Line, it proved very difficult. The year after, Zac was faring fairly well, yet he is still under the false impression that his name is David. Have a good time, and we hope that you manage to return next year.

Although this year's team was not the best team ever, let it not be denied that it was an interesting team.

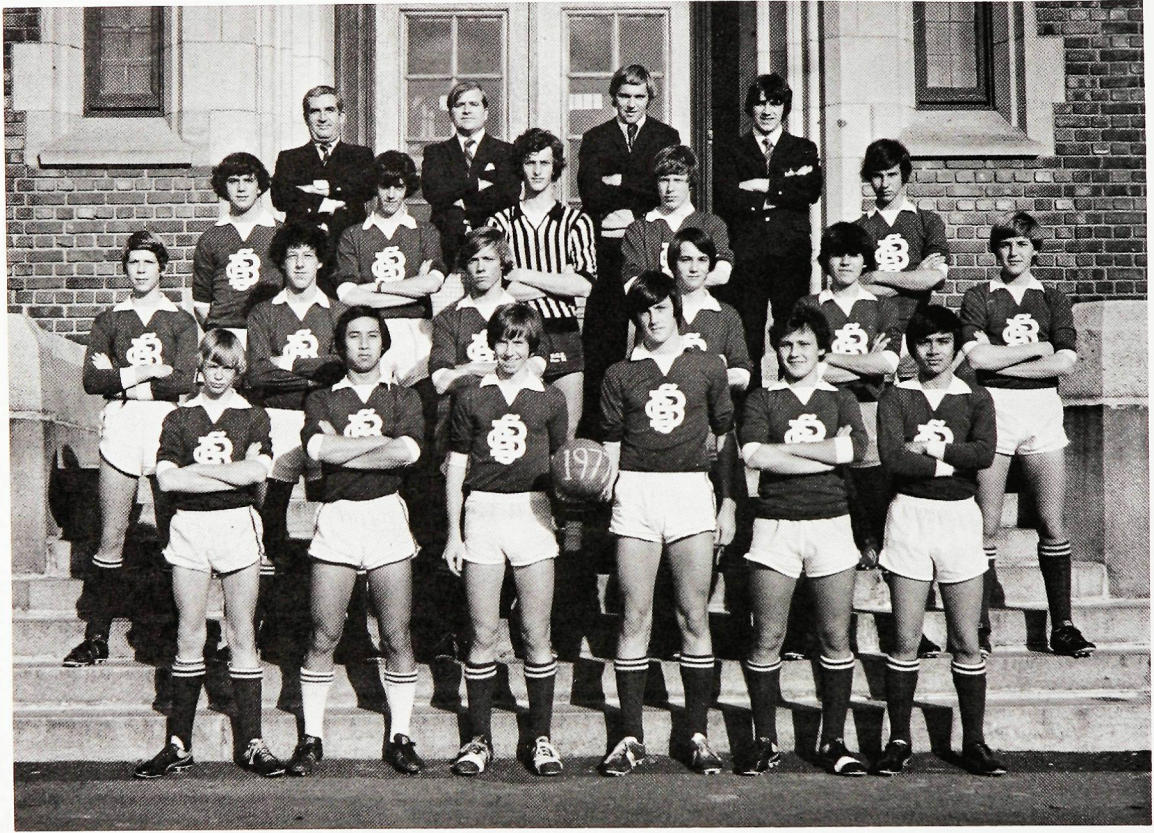

We had all sorts...people who had potential but didn't use it, and people who didn't have it but tried hard anyway. On paper the team had guts, power, and the potential to win. Even with our less than impressive record, we still put up some very good fights, especially in our close loss to LCC, the Montreal champs, giving up the game 20-19.

We did beat Selwyn House School, giving us the W. Eakin Black Trophy.

We would like to thank Coaches Price, Medland, McTavish, Mr. Badwin Goodwin, and especially Mr. McClintock, who will be missed by the whole team next fall.

Ready.....break!

At the outset of this soccer year depression struck hard as we lost our Japanese might from previous years to a sport called Football (?).

To take his place we imported (for the girls) an Italian with a mean head. Unfortunately, our first few games were depressing losses and this only because we all knew we had the skill to win the championship. Then, after a tremendous pep-rally for the whole school we got it all together and beat LCC, a team who had beaten us 4-0, by a score of 5-1.

Nothing could stop us now. Thanks to coach Milner for his confidence, and our fans who numbered six more than last year, we won eight games in a row. We were number one. Our forward line averaged four goals a game, our goalie (born and raised by a stork) stopped everything, and our defense was like a wall of steel.

We were all set for Galt in the championships, but like the past three years, we came one goal short. After all the work and advancement in one season we deserved to win, but we also realised they were the better team. The final score, 2-1 for AGRHS left us stunned and unhappy, but we had had a great season, and we had brought fame to soccer at BCS.

For all the players who won't return next year, it was great fun, and for those who do, come back; keep on truckin'.

Special thanx to Mr. Milner, our fans, and all those who participated on our team. You made it a memorable year for soccer, and taught us never to give up. And a special thanx to Twig, our manager. What can we say? An incredible effort..... thanks a million.

In words from some baseball team called the New York Mets, 'you gotta believe.' We did.

Dear Mr. Bateman,

In summary, our achievements of the year were winning the AGRHS invitational soccer tournament and placing second in our league. We also had several invitational exhibition games throughout the season.

Leading the team as captains were Kathy McGee (left inside) and Denise Perron (left Halfback). The forward line consisted of Dyan Laframboise (left Wing), Sue Hibbard (right inside), Sarah Stairs (right inside), Caroline Younger (right wing) and Tina Pinck (right inside). The forward line tried to put in every goal possible, even though a few were missed (few? ). Next came the midfields consisting of Cathy Webster, Tammy Moore, Jennifer Jonas, and Carol Hutchison, who did an excellent job of keeping the ball to their forwards (on their good days). Last but not least our outstanding defense, starring Gurt Morch, Janet Bentzen, Wendy Hueton, Caro Creighton and Cathy Lessard. In nets we had Denise Simard.....And that just about sums up our year. Thank you sir, for everything (including our two leaves in Montreal).

Signed: The Team.

Girls' Junior Field Hockey

FIRST ROW: L. Nakash, C. Brownlee, S. Ivory, N. Mair, J. Watson. SECOND ROW: L. Hedgecock, D. Symeonides, C. O'Reilly, S. Sourial, L. Nicholl. THIRD ROW: H. Pangman, L. Boyd, C. Rogers.

This year's Junior Field Hockey won the ETIAC Championships. We played 8 games, winning 3 and tying 5, with no losses to our credit. We are grateful to Lära Hedgecock, our coach. We'll always remember.....Laurie (Laverne) scoring most of our goals-Lelia and "Lace it Lelia"-Holly and her demure but killing (literally) style- Connie and her hidden fear of passing the ball-Daphne our manager and how she almost scored-Nancy and her occasional spurts of coordination and "Do we get a prize for this?" Jayne (Shirley) our Captain and how she almost murdered Laurie after her 50th goal-Sue and her sportsmanship-Sarah and how we almost had a perfect shutout record (expletive deleted)-Leslie and how she always managed to dribble the wrong way (Not funny Leslie). Cheryl and how she scored our first goal (after 79 shots on the goalie)-Lucy and her fast freewheeling style.

Senior Field Hockey

What can I say about a team that scratched, kicked and fought its way to the top? FANTASTIC. 14 wins, 7 losses and 2 ties. Winning for the first time the BCS Invitational Tournament, close second in the St. Helen's Island Tournament and the unforgettable trip to Hebron where we played the best field hockey ever. With the tireless coaching of Miss Mo, we made it, despite the crippling of our goalie Tara, and Center-Half, Roots. The secret to our success was due to the fact that we managed to import a fiery, red head from England and a Crazy Yankee from Scarsdale. We kidnapped a veteran of E.C.S. and recruited two B.C.S. old girls from Glass house. Then there was the oldies but goodies: how can we forget Carolynne and her off-crease excuses (just joking), Lisa and Stuch who managed to do ten laps laughing the entire way. There was Hutch who showed us that big surprises really do come in small packages. Heather who never ceased to amaze us and Jane who managed to do the impossible and stay alive the whole season, and then there was Mike, easily recognizable by her hair bandanas.

Altogether these insane people combined whatever skill they had and managed to make BCS history and get their name published in "The Scoop", an official field hockey magazine (pretty impressive eh? ). Our good Riddances must go to our crazy coach Miss Mo who we managed to drive permanently insane. To our crazy Yankee who was a great goalie in time of need and to the two spastic co-Captains, Mike and Roots.

The BCS Grapes certainly had a 'cliff hanger' of a season this year. Our 4-3-1 record actually means very little. One of our wins was by a skillful fieldgoal, and two of our losses by 4 and 3 points, and our tie was 0-0. The thought still gives me 'goose' bumps and shivers down my back. Our wins and losses were so close, that I feel we held our own through each minute; certainly an overall victory.

Our team undeniably died for about a week in mid-season. The team was plagued with injuries and ailments that hurt the team until the end of the season. Some of the team's nuts, with more guts than brains took a holiday with the big boys, leaving those with more brains than guts behind, in the depths of 'the pit'.

We rose out of our slump fairly well, but, unlike our predecessors, we did not win the ETIAC championship. We came within three points of winning the league in our final game. All done but not yet said, I would like to thank all the team on behalf of each other, our dear, dear, official spectators (even from the infirmary window), our coaches, Charlie Simpkin, Mr. Pipe Coleman, Mr. W. Badger, our head coach, and of course, Lucy, who spiced up every practice.

Article...oh ya! What can we say. Many thanks to Mr. Lewis for a fun season, and thanks to the team - we didn't win every game, but we had fun!

He's mine.

Junior Boys' Soccer

FRONT ROW: M. Panet-Raymond, Peter Fields, M. Reedjik, M. Coulombe, J. Way. SECOND ROW: A. Cruickshank, S. Cloutier, C. Turner, K. Greczkowski, H. Marsden, B. Cunningham. THIRD ROW: R. Ash, I. Graham, A. Johnson, T. Stafford, B. Picken, C. Hollands.

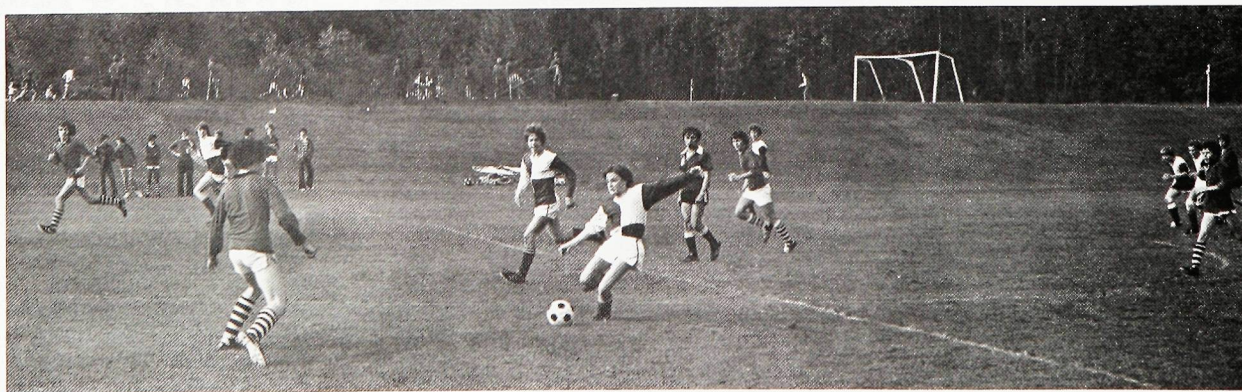

Our team, although not tremendous, had a lot of spirit and although our record does not show it (3-9-1) we were quite a good team. Our forwards, Robert Ash, Andrew Cruickshank, Clifford Turner, Serge Cloutier, John Way and Marc Coulombe were just great, especially Clifford and his terrific penalty shot aim (12 goals). Robert Ash had a terrific time plowing into goalies.

The halfbacks, the lonely threesome, consisted of Mike Reedjik, Andrew Cruickshank, and Christina Hollands, Bill Cunningham and Ian Graham. The halfbacks had their ups and downs, but when the team was going well they got the job done, with Mike and Eggo on the left side we were assured of strength, and with Christian covering the center we were impenetrable, but on the right side we had our problems with Bill and Ian showing a knack for inconsistency but all in all it was a pretty solid year.

The defense was great with Marc Panet-Raymond, Kenny Greczkowski and Henry Marsden with Bob Picken ready to fill in anywhere. On the right side Marc developed a knack for jumping, diving and sprawling and kicking a few balls all over the place. Up in the middle and on the left Kenny and Henry were almost flawless. In nets, Todd showed some talent (and some ineptness) but he was as reliable as we needed.

After hearing all this, you think to yourself "How could they lose?" I will answer that with one of Mr. Turner's famous quotes: "They're a little bit bigger than we are....."

Thanks a lot everybody who suffered with us.

Bantam Girls' Soccer

FRONT ROW: A. Fields, S. Cryan, R. Badger, J. Hallward. SECOND ROW: J. Ouimet, L. Rodeck, M. Caron, T. Cowans, C. Merkley. THIRD ROW: S. Stanley, S. Hawketts, A. Hallward, J. Cowans, Esq.

Bantam Girls' Soccer turned out to be a challenging and rewarding team, despite all our injuries (and Study Halls). With one win, three ties, and two losses, we managed to pull into second place. When it came to a game, all we could think about was what cheer to use. This would drive Mr. Detchon up the wall. He couldn't understand why we weren't thinking about the soccer game. How will we ever forget Sarah's efforts in goal for our last game, or Oui-Oui doing such a great job at halfback. And what would we have done without Robin, pushing her way through the defense. Our great forward line including Jenny, Sarah H., Sherrie, Christy and Andrea. They were ALL there when we needed them. Many thanks to Mr. D.

Bantam Boys' Soccer

Our team started off very slowly with Krud yelling at us every five minutes because we forgot our plays for the five thousandth time. It took Steve and Flip all year to get their plays down cold. Our quarterbacks Greg and Brian helped us but Brian usually played flanker, and when Brian played quarterback Greg played flanker. The two Stearns were always going offside, and Goodson was our Study Hall King. Chris and Fish always caught the hard ones but missed the easy ones. "Well, almost always." Willy played all the positions when people were hurt. Near the end Big Lou played center. Paul played tremendously at flanker. Many thanks to our coach Mr. McCaffery for a good season (oh ya.....and Pedro).

Cross-Country Running

This year, the team met with great success due to the strenuous training of our coach Mr. "Evil" Perrier. We pushed our way to the races with seven entrants, yet that was as far as we could go because of the competition.

At the beginning of the year, we were joined by some players from football like: Alain Dumais, who spent the time brushing up on his Muhammed Ali act; Lorne Kredel, whose cap always made him easy to recognize; and Gordie Sommerville, completing the pack. Jean-Yves Houle surprised everybody with his speed that had not enlisted last year. There was also: Al Saldvido who could have cleaned up in most races if it was not for his bad luck; Sharava Golsorkhi: the mean Iran with great potential, the part time runner and cheerleader; Suzanne Desaulniers, Cathy Day, who deserves a lot of credit for her effort. Some new editions were John Harley and Wilf Redijk.

The team also consisted of veterans Christiane Clermont, Burton Blais, Nigel Hauck, John Bryson and "ZACK".

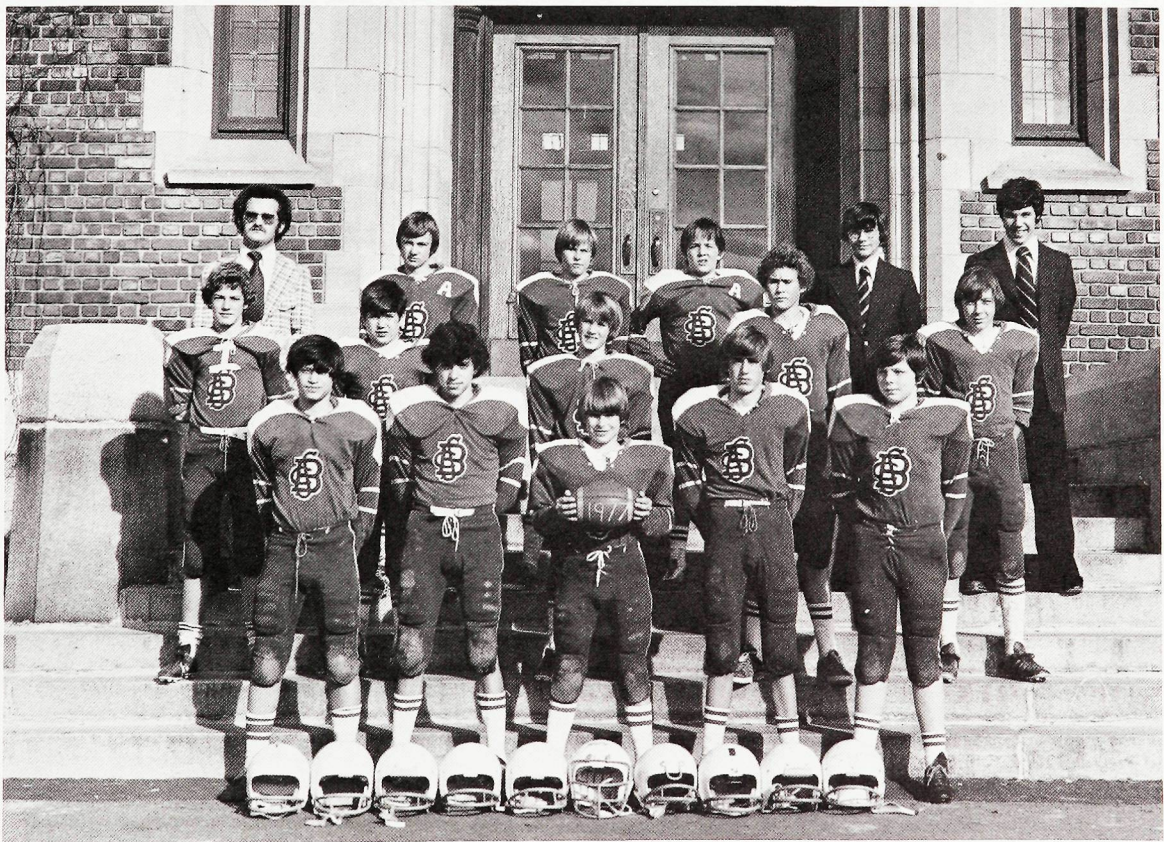

Has it been like that all day?

The true goal of AT really seems to have been achieved this fall. Although there were many different types of people, everybody seems to have come out very happy with themselves, other people, and the crease. Everybody, when they got right down to it, found they could do just about anything. First prizes have to go to Miss Tirk for striking the most amazing poses and to Bish for setting a new AT record for the number of hours spent motionless in a sleeping bag - 17. Bruce & Phil are remembered for their remarkable suggestions: 'Let's jog all 28 miles! ' Mike & Steve S.....oh yes.....their adult discussions from their tent. 'Spacy's' name is self-explanatory. Tim O. is known for studying English while waiting to dangle over a gorge. Steve K. and Frank were often seen talking about Brigitte and laughing. Campbell distinguished himself by reporting to crease every day in brand new cords and a sweater. Tim M. told the most Newfie jokes in succession - 642. Glenn & Marc ran the longest run in AT history-they got lost in the woods. We agreed with the Fonz. Brigitte - well; and Goodwin - well well.

INTRAMURAL YEARBOOK REPORT FALL '77

What happens to you at BCS when you are not a member of any of the school's inter-scholastic teams? Well, you simply join the school's Intramural League. This season was particularly well organized. From the mixture of talent (?) emerged the Lemmings team whose motto was "We play to lose", which became an "all-star-no-star" team that terrorized (?) many of the other school teams. Who will ever forget "Operation Incompetence" or "Pass Oilie". Special thanks to: Mr. Evans and Mr. Trower and the enthusiastic St. Jacques team.

In Winter. . .

FRONT ROW: R. Woodside, M. Weir, K. Rodeck, L. Kredl, L. Duval, E. Boyd. SECOND ROW: B. Rodeck, D. Scheunert, M. Kenny, M. Randle, H. Landry, J.-Y. Houle. THIRD ROW: D. Mitchell, M. Duquet, A. Dumais, M. Setlakwe, S. Jorgensen. FOURTH ROW: G. Landry, C. Goodwin, Esq.; J. Cowans, Esq.

Although picked by the experts to take the E.T.I.A.C. by storm and head for the provincials for the third year in a row, we astounded everyone by finishing in second place and losing to Alexander Galt in the playoffs.

At the beginning we felt there was a good nucleus of veterans, plus some good players up from the farm team. Not one of our draft picks made it to the Senior Team, so the team was set. However, after our first game, we lost three players by contract negotiations until Christmas. So, a few players were pulled up from the other affiliate, the Intramural Hockey Association. The team managed to play .500 hockey with a various assortment of injuries and epidemics hitting it. It was not until after Christmas that the team started to fall together. Who can forget the "we should not lose another game" speech? Well, we did, and spent the last month of the season playing either terribly (L.C.C. Tournament) or incredibly well (Centennial).

Tippy, our $6 million coach, tried to get mad, but how can you get mad when Dumais goes to the practice with no socks? Tip also made quite a living off fines this year (Like McDonald's, Yogi? ). We worry about how we will handle all the money. Well, at least next year's team should be good, with a good nucleus of veterans plus some good players from the farm team.....(starting to sound familiar? ).

Senior Basketball

REAR ROW: C. Noyes-Roberts, C. Lessard, J. Cowans, Esq.; C. Crossen, C. Everson, K. Price, R. Perrier, Esq. FRONT ROW: K. McGee, B. Ballantyne, D. Simard, T. Pinck.

This year proved to be one filled with trials and tribulations for our team. Losing one of our star players early in the season didn't help much; but somehow the rest of us managed to plug along, despite sprained and broken ankles, cramps, sickness, headaches, and temper tantrums. Our purple uniforms could be seen from Lachute to Richmond and then afterwards ending up at one of Sherbrooke's great food chains much to Mr. Perrier's chagrin. Sometimes we played just so "well" that he lost his appetite completely! Through the infamous weigh-ins and timed runs, we still made it seven strong to practices at LES in Lessard Cruisers, and then on to games where finding the school was one thing, but finding the gym was a different story. It will never be forgotten: snowstorms, Stork, cold showers, Tank, wet nylons, Bus, bathrooms, Belly, fousls, Car, Big Macs, Romo, hospitals, late crease, Thetford cheers, chewing gum, Caroline, the boards, referees, rebounds...it was great fun. Thanks a lot, sir, for a new outlook on a great sport.

Senior Volleyball

REAR ROW: C. Moralejo, J. Cowans, Esq. MIDDLE ROW: T. Stoker, L. Boyd, C. Creighton, W. MacDougall, J. Gilbert, J. Shaw. FRONT ROW: C. Hutchison, S. Ivory, L. Bishop, S. Armstrong.

We kept up the tradition of past volleyball teams, losing most of our games with the exception of two. Malicious Mo's drills had us rolling on the floor. She insisted upon us moving our feet but they remained glued to the floor until crease was over.

Tara's serves started off the games with a smash; too bad it didn't keep going that way. The setters got the ball so rarely the spikers were unprepared. Jay introduced her new style in spiking but somehow it didn't help. Caro and Willa provided light entertainment during practice even though Mo didn't appreciate it much.

When you look back on it, guys, it wasn't that bad. (yes it was.) Thanks anyway, Mo, it was fun; and better luck next year.

FRONT ROW: I. Graham, T. Moseley, G. Somerville, W. Stenason, B. Bell, M. Panet-Raymond. SECOND ROW: S. Jenne, S. Scheunert, B. Davis, M. McGee, T. O'Reilly, D. Marshall. THIRD ROW: W. McCarter, S. Kouri, M. St. Onge, C. Burfoot, M. Laframboise, K. McCaffery, Esq.

We out-hustled, out-muscled, out-scored, out-swapped, out-pressured, out-exchanged, and out-dominated. And we won a lot too. Our record? 24 wins, 2 ties, 3 losses. We had the George Pinck Memorial Trophy and the Stanstead College Invitational Hockey Tournament Cup to bring home. We had two great trips, thanks to our coach, Mr. McCaffery. On the 3rd to the 5th of March, we went to Deerfield, Mass. We played 2 games vs. Eaglebrook School and one against Deerfield Academy (Remember 'Air Pressure' Cedric, alias 'buskin'? ). We rattled up Eaglebrook for 6-2 and 5-1 victories, and sent players to the paddywagon to beat Deerfield 3-2. Stan, our captain, made a great speech, but it WAS a success. We brought along a few Bantams, and were plagued with "Saint, man" and "we're serious" for 3 days. We dished it out, and Graham's average is still OK. Then came our Ottawa trip. Did we play hockey? Well.....we 'cribbed' some cots, got Mr. McCaffery out of the bar (finally), went to lots of museums, the House of Commons, the Mint, and the Rideau Canal for the 1978 Abenaki Skate-a-thon. Just remember, upstairs is MUCH nicer, and there's LOTS of towels. The coach was never late, and Gordie had his usual pre-game nerve calmer. But it was an educational trip. Just remember, guys, no more smelly bus rides from Stanstead, no more chewing tabacky, no more pinball wizardry, no more skins, no more smiles from Panet, no more water bottle (there never was), no more bitch in Hearts, and no more Study Halls for Academic Don. It was a riot..... throwing Stan in the shower, Crazy Eddy, the Hulk, Corky, Leroy, McGee's boomer, Moseley still falling over the lines, Pedro, Lobes, Mr. & Mrs. Bell, faithful to the end, Razz's chest, St. Onge's penalties, Burf, Buzzard, Steve J., the Bronchitis kid, Willie Mc. and our.....coach.....Thanks, coach.

Final goal standings? Bell - 285; McCarter - 1; Moseley - 0; Too bad, Meas.
Oh.....and a last word.....that vest has GOT to go.

Bantam Hockey

FRONT ROW: M. Stearns, M. Meir, C. Cowans, D. Pinck, G. Boyd, W. Badger, B. Cunningham, S. Goodson. BACK ROW: A. Cruickshank, R. Ash, J. Stearns, N. Chapdelaine, J. Appleby, R. Carmichael, E. Belanger, R. Tucker, J. McClintock, Esq.

This year's Bantam Hockey Team has been the most successful Bantam Team ever. We won all our league games which won us the George Pinck Memorial Trophy. Our record was 8 losses, and we played 25 games. We lost 4 times against L.C.C., twice against Lennoxville, once vs. Richelieu Valley, and once against Selwyn House.

We started this year with a new coach, and believe it or not, it was his first year coaching, and what a successful year! We practiced hard, and skated hard, and Boy, did Mr. McClintock get us in shape. "We can rebuild them; stronger.....even faster than before." We thank Mr. McClintock for a good year. Our first trio consisted of Greg Boyd (Snake), David PJ Pinck, and Robert 'Clue' Ash. They played very well together and they sure showed it by the amount of goals they scored. The second trio consisted of Butch Carmichael, Eric Belanger, and Lips Chapdelaine. This line was a great combination of skating and scoring. The third trio? Ricky Tuck, Cookie, and Jamie Stearns (Smoke). This line pulled us out of some tough spots. James took over his brother's position after Michael injured himself skiing.

Our big tough defensemen consisted of Shake Goodson and Willy Badger, and, Chris Cowans and John Appleby. They proved at the end of the year how tough they were with their hard hitting and strong shots. Our two goalers, Bill Cunningham and Marc Meir.....thanks a lot. They both pulled off many superb saves.

And thanks again to our coach, Mr. McC. 3 cheers for Bantam.....!

Junior Basketball

REAR ROW: D. Turner, Esq.; K. Bowser, S. Hawketts, B. Perry-Gore, J. Baker. FRONT ROW: J. Booth, M. Landry, L. Hope, C. O'Reilly, S. Fear.

This year the team had one of those great beginnings, first by beating Galt and then winning a 2nd place in the Montreal tournament to end off the season. The year had its ups and downs, but we still managed to emerge at the end with having driven our coach up a wall at times though he tried to remain, for the most part, in good humor.

The "few" things he had to put up with were Jay's bionic ankles, Joanna's frequent trips to the First Aid box, trying to get Bridget not to dribble herself into that corner on offense and wondering how she got away with only 3 fouls in the whole season. Connie's great shots (flukes?) that really freaked us out, trying to shade our eyes from Lexie's bright green running shoes, hoping that Kari wouldn't get fouled out again and that maybe next time she'd bring all of her uniform. Mad and her sideline admirer, Sarah H. are probably running to Lennoxville again; Sarah F. and her ability to giggle through entire creases, and then Jill, who was the quietest member of the team.

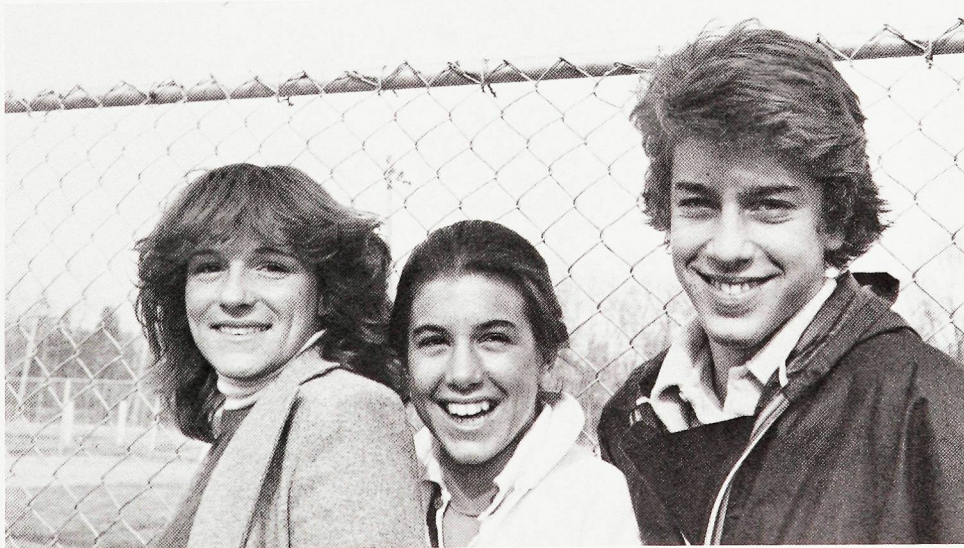

Well, I sure hope Mr. Turner's looking forward to catching we pros next year 'cause we're going to have one doozie of a team.

The Man Who Swept
The Gym Floor

The Bantam team was composed of beginners, so it was really tough for Mr. Romanado (the Man of the Year) (he thought). The team was very funny. On the team there was Manon, who thought she was going to die of exercise. Lucie would always be diving after the ball, not worrying about killing herself; Tori, with her lucky long shots and her unfortunate 3 second fouls; Kathy, who looked like she was composing poetry; Jessica, who would be skipping down the floor wondering who she should pass to; Robyn fighting for the ball and popping up with 5 fouls; Haidy with her great shots in practice, but couldn't seem to make them in the games; Sandra struggling down the court with her sore toe; and of course Adèle who is still wondering which basket she should shoot at. Thanks of course to Mr. Romanado for making it so much fun. Bye!

Because of a hard time trying to find a coach, this year we joined the Orford Ski Team. We raced all over the Eastern Townships at Orford, Bellevue, Bromont, Owl's Head and Sutton, having at least two people in the top three in every race.

Bruce and Cathy represented the Eastern Townships in a Quebec Cup Race in the Gaspé. Kenny and Tony were the star goalies in the soccer games during dryland training, while Dodie and Molly were confusing everyone by looking so much the same. Andrew, Bruce, Sarah and Cathy did well in most races and Barry had a good time on his away weekends. Philip C. and Mich trained hard and Mich finally got used to his skis which were twice his size. Phil Landry's flashy new pants really said a lot for him.

Andrew Ivory started the season in a cast and Webby ended it in the same position. Our photographer and organizer "Deb" really helped a lot. And a special thanks to our coaches who helped us all a lot: Charlie, Guy, André and Danny. Cathy, Philip, Andrew, Sarah and Mich were awarded first class colors, and the two trophies were shared among Bruce, Cathy, and Andrew.

Our strenuous training activities, pushed by Coach Milner, were rewarded with success in the many racing meets. Due to new additions and some veterans, our junior team showed a good standing against numerous schools. Our best action was in our Seniors, namely Roger Theberge and Jane Roots who surprised everyone with their supreme speed. Many thanks to Mr. Milner for his excellent training programs to ready us for a good season of skiing.

The Intramural

The I.H.A. entered its fourth year with five teams of very near equal strength, and, as usual, the pride and honor of being a member of the I.H.A. was obvious. There wasn't a team, line, or a player that didn't go all out in pursuit of the elusive Master's Cup, and the struggle was hard.

Then, on the 7th of March the Canadiens pulled it off and walked away smiling as the Penguins were left behind after having come so close, and yet being so far. The IHA would like to thank all the refs, and especially Commissioner McClintock for making the IHA so much like the NHL.

We will greatly miss our Commissioner next year and thank him for all the hard work he put into the IHA.

A message from the Refs...

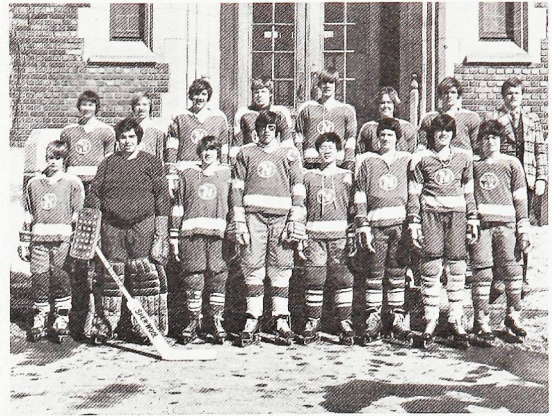

Neither wind nor rain nor snow nor sleet,
Nor frozen hands nor frozen feet;
Will deter we intrepid refs from the call,
Else we'll be gated, one and all!

Over twenty of us, both boys and girls, improved rapidly when we went on our trips to Montreal and had an astonishing outcome in Ontario's private school matches.

We won all our interschool squash matches in Quebec and the team is young enough to be stronger next year. I think it is a must to mention the top two players.

Jane McLeod, a 10th grader who astonished all by coming 4th in the National Tournament. Duncan McDougall must also be recognized, a 6th former who upset Ridley's No. 1 player. Unfortunately, Jane leaves us this year, but Duncan will be back.

It has been a great year and our elite group continues to thrive on popularity. Many thanks to our illustrious coaches and to our social secretary, Catherine Williams, for keeping us in touch with the "Outside" world.

One never knew what the girls on Modern Dance Crease were really up to. They said they were going into Montreal for a dance workshop, but we know they spent the day partying at the Grey Cup Parade. Later on, the winter weather decided to deprive them of yet another workshop and a ballet. Sniff Sniff. They claimed they were traveling to Montreal to see a ballet, but no one was fooled this time, and their reports about the movie and their dinner excursion surprised no one. In the end they did manage to scrape together enough co-ordination to contribute to a dance revue at Bishop's University, which everyone enjoyed. The girls of course, extend their most grateful thanks to the loveliest crease-mistress of all, Miss Tulip (Mrs. Cauliflower? ).

This year the First XV had a fine season, led by Capt. Setlakwe's scoring dive. The First XV played a fast moving game highlighted by a lightning three quarters and a small but effective pack.

Forced to play much older and bigger teams the XV found difficulty at times in bringing them down, especially in the case of the Ontario teams. However, we did match every other team with speed and fitness.

This year's record speaks for itself. There was very little more to be desired about the team's effort and performance. Both on and off the field, the team had excellent spirit, and displayed good team co-operation. On paper, the team had a modest year, but the future is very bright and the upcoming stars are very keen.

It was an enjoyable year, and the old cliché "It's not whether you win or lose but how you play the game" was especially applicable to this season. It was a lot of fun.

This year, the award for the player best combining sportsmanship with ability was given to Mark Setlakwe, who in the words of Coach Bateman, "was a player fun to play with AND against!"

Many thanks to Coach Mr.

Bateman for an excellent year.

This year's season was one for gaining experience. Most of it was spent on the road when we either played in Montreal or toured Ontario. Excluding Ontario, which according to Marc and Giulio wasn't very successful (due to their injuries), the season went fairly well. Out of the four games played in Quebec we won three. Also, we came first in our division of the BCS Rugby Tournament.

Many things were learnt, like how to throw the ball backwards, Igor, or what an offside is, Bruce. George's speed stood along with Yogi's endurance. Mike's "one, two, three...break!" will be forever remembered as will Steve's "Kill 'em!" And we can't forget John's imaginary lawn-chair in the backfield.

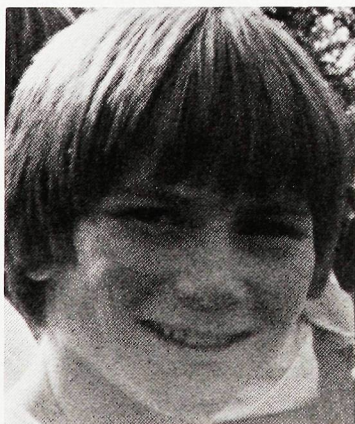

Thanks go to Bruce and Steve for their helpful leadership, to those who filled in for our injured, and especially to Dr. Coleman and Mr. Dutton for their coaching and encouragement.

Bantam Rugby started off very slowly. Because of the amount of snow on the fields in the early season we couldn't practice with the balls! We started off as a cross-country running team, then moving on to rugby in the later part of the season.

The season started off against Selwyn House in which we lost by a large margin; then we played two games against a mixture of their A & B teams, both of which we won. We lost also against LCC and Lindsay Place High School.

The Bantam Team sent two teams to the LCC Sevens Tournament in which both teams made it to the semis. Even though Bantam Rugby didn't win a lot, we sure had fun on road trips, right Norm, cheers, Al. We had a very enjoyable year, and extend our appreciation to our coaches Marc Duquet and Mr. McClintock.

We had an excellent group this year, even if some of us had a little trouble staying on our bikes. The crease was highlighted by three overnight trips, the last of which was a four day trip through the Mt. Washington Valley. A good time was had by all; at least for all those whose bikes held together for the trip.

Luckily the year was blessed with dry weather and a lack of wind, so most of the days were taken quite lightly. We'd like to thank Mr. McCaffery and his back and knees for putting up with our foolishness for a full term, and just remember, kids...le're waughing!

This year's group was a wild assortment of many people, with Bob Schnell 18 miles ahead of the pack, Sewell 18 miles behind the pack, and the rest of us in the pack...we think.

The highlight of the year was our annual trip to Island Pond, Vermont, where the males on the crease were served graciously by Righteous Ray and Dodie. (chuckle, chuckle! )

Thanks go to Mr. Lewis and HIS back and HIS knees too, for their patience and good temper.

Our final words this year? Well, the editor censors a few of our expressions, but I will let in...aaaaaaaaaaaaa (performed while sticking your tongue out) and remember...don't do anything in a boat I wouldn't do. (Tee hee.)

If last year's team was small, then this year's was miniature, but not in strength or in spirit. What we did lack in short distance running, we made up for in middle and long distance, thanks to people like Roger Theberge, Craig Fields, Christian Hollands and Alain Dumais. This year we saw another good effort by our girls' team, led by Jane Roots, Wendy Hueton, Heather Calder, and a newcomer, Jennifer Shaw. The field section of our team also had its moments. We also had spirit, and that came from our Dynamic Duo of Jay Gilbert and Turtle with their extravagant glasses and party hats.

Let us not forget Mr. Evil and his three accomplices, Messrs. Milner, Trower, and Badger. The team's thanks go out to you, with the hope that next year will be just as good.

Unfortunately, it is impossible for a team of this size to mention everyone, but all our thanks go out to each of us for the effort and spirit that made this year's Track and Field crease a success.

No. 2 Cadet Corps

Officers

NCO's

Once again tradition was carried on proudly at B.C.S. as the No. 2 Cadet Corps had one of its best final inspections. Much credit is due to many people, especially Major Turner, promoted Major during the school year, who led the 289 cadets including the Brass and Pipe bands through an interesting year of drill, assorted classes and activities. Our C.O. was proud to do his job and an excellent one at that. Most of the officers were promoted during the year which made for a more conscientious group and more efficient and well trained cadets. The cadets themselves survived a very heavy drill schedule in the few final weeks and showed the inspecting officer, General Robertson that the corps can still do a good job and who could forget the performance done by the Brass and Pipe Bands.

Thanks to all for your co-operation during the year and may next year prove itself to be even more profitable.

St. Martin's Chapel

Choir

We owe our success this year to many people who came to give their time to the Chapel and Choir of B.C.S. Rev. Roberts for his continuous support in daily prayers and Sunday services. The choir thanks him, the servers, and the wardens for their interest. Mrs. Brady, the peppermint lady, our choir mother, was always there to tell us to wear blue nylons, hang up our robes and shhh.

Thanks Mrs. Brady for faithfully climbing those stairs every Sunday. Thanks goes to Mr. Detchon for hitting those low notes and for taking the time to contribute to the choir.

Miss Hewson and Mr. Austin both deserve applause for taking on the difficult job of keeping our choir together this last term. It's hard to keep all of us happy.

Wardens

The choir was brought to a successful end thanks to the gracious help of Mr. Moris Austin. He has always come to our aid before and we appreciate him giving us his free time. During the year, the choir sang at various churches in Danville, Sherbrooke, and Montreal. We thank the devoted members of the choir who left the school, especially Bruce Rodeck, Janet Hutchison and Kate Brown. We wish Mr. Tamblyn and next year's choir good luck and continued success.

Players' Club

This year the BCS Drama Production was expanded to three major productions, aided by the conversion of the old stage into a "mini-theatre", thanks to Mr. Evans and his devoted crew of carpenters.

1. Butterflies Are Free

When Lewis Evans arrived at BCS in September of 1976, one of his aims was to put on a drama production in the same way as his father, Lewis Evans Sr., had done so many times before during his 38 years as master here. Unfortunately, by the time he had settled into his new surroundings, most people had committed themselves to other activities, and they didn't have time to work at rehearsals and setting up the stage. The play had to wait.

This year Mr. Evans made no mistake. By the fourth day of school he had already approached most of the actors and assistants. By the second week, the rehearsals were in full swing, and BUTTERFLIES ARE FREE was quickly becoming a reality. The school stage was converted into a small intimate theatre, with seating on one side and the stage on the other. An excellent set was built, and tiered seating put in.

The production was presented from the 24th to the 27th of November, and it was a stunning success. Ian Goodwin played a very convincing blind man, and Liz Anne Stirling was a natural in her role as a scatter-brained young girl. Supporting them were Laurie Boyd as the mother, and Jamie Holden as the rock-on, loud-mouthed boyfriend.

Certainly Edward Leefe deserves mention for his enthusiasm and hard work.

Of course, the credit goes to Mr. Evans for his incredible energy and devotion towards the success of the play. The school thanks you...

THE CAST, Left to Right: Liz Anne Stirling, Jamie Holden, Ian Goodwin, Laurie Boyd.

2. Gypsy

You Gotta Take the Rough with the Smooth, Baby. The BCS Players Club certainly did when they decided to produce this challenging musical.

Based on the memoirs of Gypsy Rose Lee, "GYPSY" is a Broadway musical in two acts about a pushy mother named Rose (Kate Brown) with a Wonderful Dream Papaaaaa..., trying to get her "dainty" June (Jennifer Jonas) into show business. On their way to success she meets Herbie (Matthew Kenny), an ex-vaudeville manager, along with the News and Farm Boys. With a little bit of help from Mr. Eggroll (Chris Cowans), they make it at the Orpheum Circuit.

As their show falls apart, June packs her bags and leaves with Tulsa (Andrew Creighton). This leaves Louise (Vicky Doheny), June's sister, alone with momma and "Madame Rose's Toreadorables". With their first break in burlesque, Louise is taught to become an ecdesiast by the three strippers (Jayne Watson, Alison Stuchbery & Willa Macdougall). With these new talents Louise goes on to become Miss Gypsy Rose Lee.

Together Wherever We Go we will always be grateful for the time and talent that Mr. Bevan and his co-workers put into the play. A special tap and a split go to Ms. Tirk for her choreography.

In every big production the crew's work is so important to the turning out of the final masterpiece. We warmly thank John Hallward and all his crew for their work. A special thanks goes to all those in lighting, costumes and makeup.

Under Mr. Lloyd's direction, as always, Everything Came up Roses for everyone involved in Gypsy.

We all thank you.
Momma & Poppa.

3. Romeo and Juliet

It has been said that it is impossible for high school students from the age of 13 to 18 to "handle" the difficult language of Shakespeare. Zeffirelli proved that this was not so and now the BCS Players Club has also proved it false with their production of Romeo and Juliet.

Of course we were very lucky to have our own Zeffirelli - Mr. Lewis Evans. Mr. Evans, director & designer, gave his all to what was an extremely successful show. Together we all worked as one whole group with full co-operation.

The leading members of the cast were: Edward Leefe and Brigitte Pelletier in the title roles, Michael Weir as the Friar, Willa Black as the loving Nurse, Campbell Webster as Mercutio, Nicholas Noyes-Roberts as Benvolio and Robert Hyndman as the Prince.

Many, many thanks go to Richard Clinton and all the Stage Carpenters - all the little people who really aren't so little; these are the people that built our wonderful theatre, under the direction of Mr. Evans. We must not forget the rest of the production staff. With warm hearts we extend also our thanks to Mrs. Evans for her beautiful, untiring contribution to our costumes. She was literally designer, manufacturer, and dry cleaner.

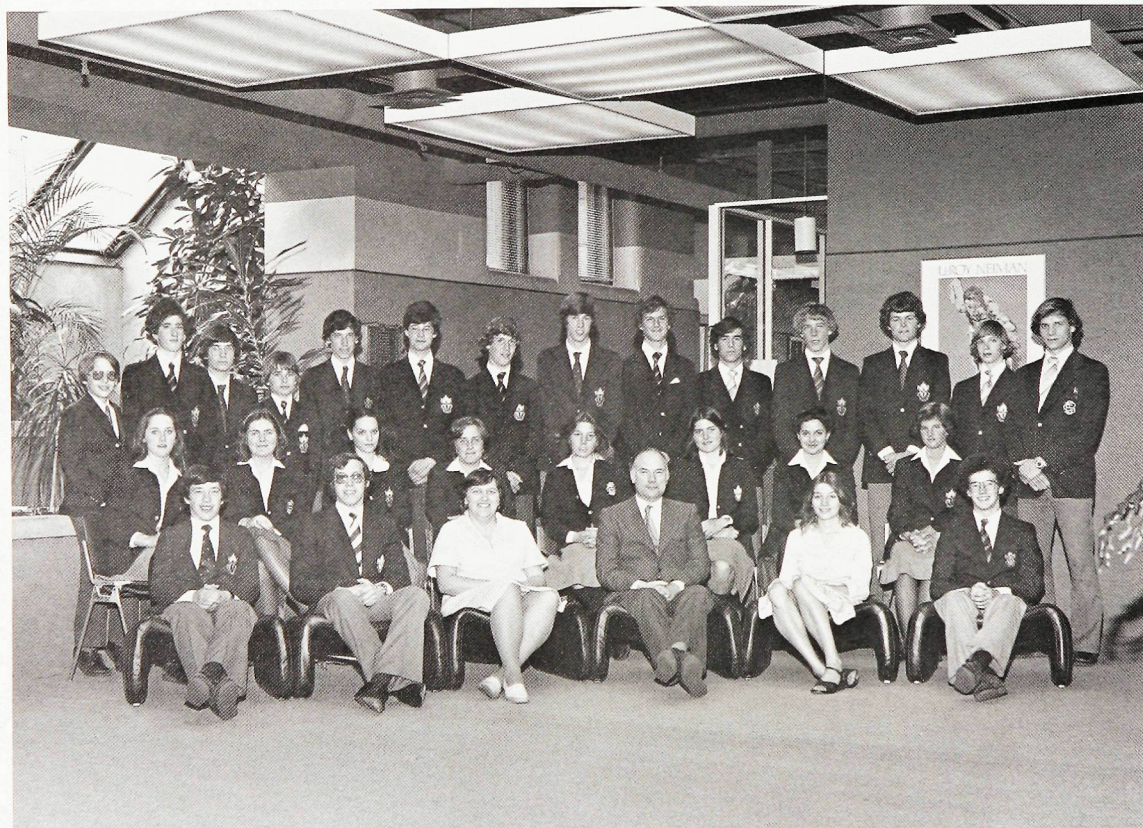

The superior effort and skill of both crew and cast combined with a spirited camaraderie made it all the much harder to end the wonderful show.

Congratulations all!

The Library continued its steady growth this year with the collection increased to well over 14,000 volumes. Some new periodicals were added for academic and general reading.

A new reference resource, Deadline Data on World Affairs, has been acquired. In the form of a subscription, material is received each week for inclusion in a card file of information on all the countries of the world and major agencies. This file has been well used by students preparing assignments for History, Geography and Political Science.

A new photocopying policy was introduced this year. Students were permitted a limited number of free copies from library materials, especially reference books; which decreased unauthorized borrowing.

Again this year, 29 student librarians, headed by Mike Weir, assisted in the everyday running of the library. Circulation desk duty and prep supervision were the principal tasks, although a faithful few also learnt and performed the tasks of new book preparation and book repair.

We are much indebted to Mr. Winder (Head Librarian) and to Miss Matthews (Library Technician). We also wish to thank Miss Helen Brookhouse for her supervision of Library Prep; and Michael Medland and Malcolm Curtis for their services as weekend supervisors.

Romp & Stomp '78

What can I say?

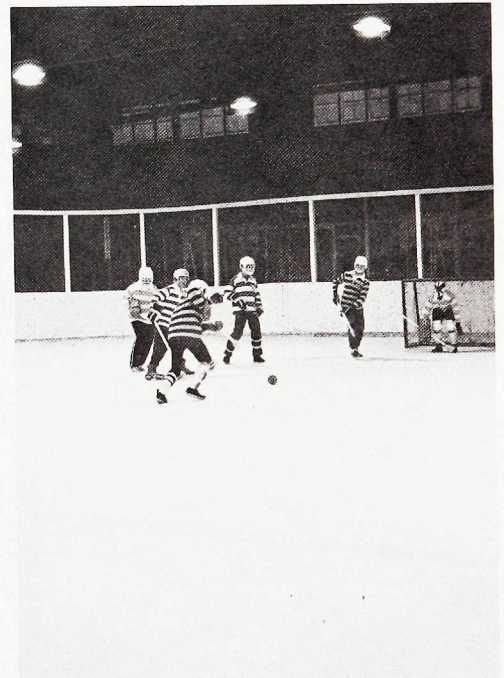

If you can't look back on Romp & Stomp as having been a time of laughter, comraderie, and entertainment, then something went wrong somewhere that will be changed. This year a lot of old traditions were changed; for the better, the fifth form thought.

New elements of Carnival were brought this year with crazy races and new games. We hope that they were as much fun to participate in as they were to draft and prepare.

The B.C.S. Carnival came to an end on a beautiful Saturday night, with Gillard House, South House, Chapman House winning their respective divisions.

As for the next year; all I can say is I hope that you're almost through organizing by the time you read this yearbook, and good-luck.

You can't say Carnival in a small community like ours without saying co-operation and participation in the same breath. Special thanks for both co-operation and participation go to Mr. McCaffery first, followed closely by all of the fifth form who when approached never denied their assistance. Officials, judges, suppliers of food, inspiration, players and spectators alike deserve a warm thanks.....

Community Services

Community Services consisted of a small group of students who all strove to be helpful to nearby communities. The main thought and purpose behind the social service group has always been to give a little bit of ourselves to others who really need it, whether it's in the form of reading to the old folks at the Grace Christian Home or playing scrabble with them.

It never mattered whether we had ten or two going to the home on any night because we knew for sure that they would appreciate the group. The only thing we got in return for our time was self-gratitude and that's all we need. Community services is the one activity where the students don't ask for recognition or a reward to continue their helpful efforts.

There was a little switch this year in our program. The annual Spring Fair was held in the Fall. We raised a total of more than five hundred dollars which was used to purchase gifts for the Grace Christian Home and other charities. In the second term we presented a new wheelchair to the Home. They were extremely pleased because they are always in need of new wheelchairs.

We must extend our warm thanks to Mrs. Brady and Mr. Campbell for all their help and time they spent with us. As well a special thanks goes to Gavin for playing the pipes at the home.

O God, keep us from being like porridge

Slow to warm up and hard to stir,

But make us like corn-flakes:

Always ready to serve.

Activities Committee

After a slow start, the Activities Committee swung into high gear and organized weekend activities at an amazing rate. With a majority of imaginative newcomers, somehow we kept coming up with the same old ideas: Coffee Houses, the perennial "standby" Bingo, and of course...movies: it was really "PSYCHO" to find "ROMEO & JULIET" "SINGIN' IN THE RAIN"!

Bishops barrelled through bouts of broomball and bingo and battled the bulges at the Bake Sale. Despite all the coffee houses scheduled, the enthusiasm was always there...especially during the slow dances. But for some strange reason, it died as soon as clean-up started! (However, stolen cookies always managed to attract a few helpers! ) Many thanks to Steve Budning and to Quad 39 for their excellent music and reliability.

Our highlights ranged from one extreme to the other...from a Tea Dance to a Sock Hop!

Danny, we'll try to get your "Bar Night" in some year. Caroline, we need another poster. Campbell! Yes, it was an important one. We talked about...Jane taking another weekend...Heather, a hypnotist...Karma, ideas from the Study are good, but for boys! Fern and Carol...always helping! Vicky and Janet...we tried!

“The Greek Islands”

During Easter vacation six B.C.S. students and staff librarian, Lynn Matthews, were deported abroad. Kathy McGee, Tammy Moore, Cathy Lessard, Heather Johnston, Andrew Fuller and Mike Weir were exiled to the land of Greece for 12 days. The voyage was more than a trip, it was an experience that will be remembered by all for a long time. After all how can we ever forget the Greek men's attraction for Cathy, Andrew's hard time at finding a suitable postcard, Tammy's fascination for waste baskets, or Mike and his comb - Mike and everybody's comb. Lynn's attempt to bargain for a replica vase and finding out it wasn't the vase the salesman was trying to sell, or her way of bargaining down the price of her bedspread. Heather was quite a success at playing Cupid. Last but not least we have Sipple Magoo who found out how to drive a hard bargain with the Greek salesmen. All the girls were dying to go swimming but the only pools we ran across were the bathroom floors. A short verse to describe our palatial hotel: Water, water, everywhere

And not a drop in the sinks.

Together we saw all the cultural sights, the Delphi Oracle, Apollo's Temple, Epidaurus Theatre, Mycenae and Athens. Nighttime was spent among the Greeks in their Taverns and Discotheques learning and experiencing the dance moves and liquid concoctions. We must extend our thanks to Andrew and Mike, even though they weren't experienced enough in the eyes of the jewellery store owner, who kept some of the more persistent men from trying out their Grecian formulas on the girls. Our last day and night was spent in Rome. We took an afternoon tour but almost didn't make it as we were stranded at the airport for awhile. That seems to be all. Ah, but the boys must have the last word - pizzzza.

Chapman House alone is history, but the members of Chapman made history themselves this year with the aid of a completely new staff of teachers who presented a whole new way to go about things. Our major accomplishments would have to be winning the Senior Cross-Country, and surprising everyone by winning a landslide victory in the Winter Carnival.

It is imperative that we discuss some of the men who made this possible. Of course there was "Momma" Matthews who showed us the difference between good and bad. Splashy is in the hospital being dried out and having a frown implanted on his face. Arnie gave us our well acclaimed House Cheer and a pair of feet to astonish everyone. The article would not be complete without mentioning the 5th formers in our midst. They were led by Bruce Davis and his French Fry attacks and followed closely by Jill...oops! I mean Willie Mick.

We have everything in Chapman, from HULK to tiny, and all the others who once again made this House a champion.

Finally, I would like to thank our Housemaster, KMC, for leading us through the straight and narrow with help from our Biology expert and Gory.

To end off, let us not forget our professional golfers, talkers, and stunt men on bikes, as well as TV guides and sadists. Our pride is an Italian fashion designer who loves Americans, and our Inuit from the North Pole, and last, but not least, the Big Daddy himself, Head Prefect Robbie McCarter.

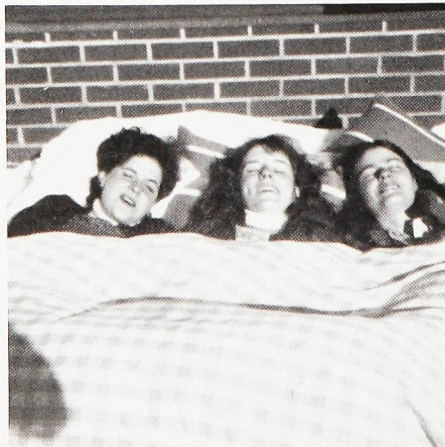

Bye!

Well, it was quite a year for North House. Although we lost the X-C race and the carnival, we kept in good spirits. We won both of the Great Races, though! Even if we weren't so hot sports-wise we had some good times in the house. The basement was the home of the mature, wise, fourth formers. Cunningspork, the Mouth, Bones and the Red Flash could all be found there. It was this floor that got the ping-pong table and the TV first every night and was accused of disturbing the peace several times.

The second floor was the home of a variety of people: O-J and R*O*C*K were our spelling aces. Ears, Adum, Sad, Toughy, Gretch, and Monkey were also among the happy family. Our most famous members of that floor were Prouette and Squeal. They kept the house entertained by doing things like waking up at 4 am every morning to attack people with baseball bats.

And then, the third floor...Bob Schnell, Hairdo, Odeur, Piggy and Toe Nee; the only Third Formers who seemed to stay out of trouble. Bear, Butch, Meepers and Big Foot weren't anyone's idea of angels. At the end of the hall, in the lush carpeted suites of North Manor resided the last holdouts of Fourth Formers. They were the Flying Frenchman, Hot Air, Big Burt, and Shahravan.

Thanks to our Housemasters, and to the House, for a great year, and good luck in all the ones to come!

Guerin.

Grier South came; Grier South saw; Grier South conquered. On June 10th, 1978, Grier South will be left deserted, as the last of the originals make their departures. As this phenomenon comes to an end, Grier South's achievements were numerous: 2 cross-country championships, 3 carnival championships, and 3 track and field championships.

As South House's third year of existence comes to a close, we find Patrick for the 453rd time, at last count, ordering from Jerry's. Gavin was blowing on his bagpipes, as Gregory was peeping under his kilt. Quantz and Jumbo Lou at this time were bicycling to Town Talk, wondering why even though they bicycled there each day, they were still out of breath. Fernando was asking Kirk for change for his 100 dollar bill, and Ross and Joe were working off their laps by restacking their pornography. Jean Paul and Hug were fighting off the ants, and Jed was playing the drums. Oui-Oui was taking a stroll to buy ear-muffs. As we move to the third floor we find Steve running away from Rick's trunk. Chris was running away also, from Scott, who wanted to shake hands. There is still a reward out for Spoon. Gerg and Louis were still in bed suffering from nervous hangovers; CB was trying to convince Philippe that his type of language is superior to that spoken by the French. Meanwhile, P.J.'s shoes had gotten dirty and he wished for a shine. He decided to handle his and Smoke's affairs this way: "James, polish my shoes! Do you hear me, James?"

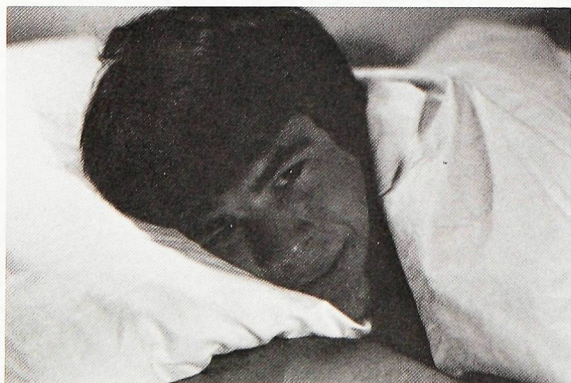

Not only was Grier South invaded by a bunch of new boys, but also by a foursome of Masters. Mr. Dutton was calculating how long he could survive; Dr. Coleman was smoking his pipe; and Lucy was being suffocated; Mr. Curtis, behind closed doors, was also being suffocated, but by a Right Guard can, and Mr. Price was famous for avoiding suffocation. Thanks also to our two replacements, Messrs. Southam & McEwen, and especially to Mrs. Dutton for her chocolate cakes.

Once again McNaughton Hotel came through with very high standards. Right, Evan, Steve? If someone may walk down the halls of our paradise, he or she can see Brent in a daze while dreaming about football, and Nigel trying to beat up Brent. They would see someone coming out of Luc's room with a handful of pens.

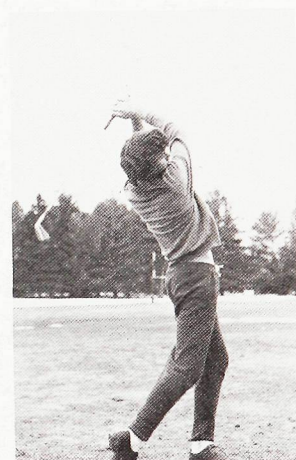

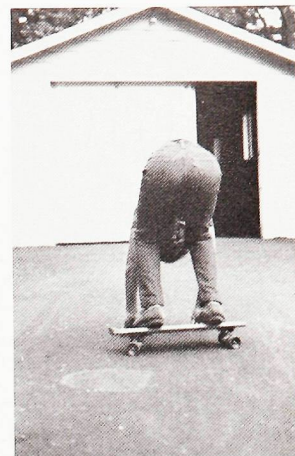

Mike McGee and Henry are destroying wildlife, while Zack is finishing an Idi Amin speech. Spudball is beating up Evan; Ford, Patrick and Yogi can't be found anywhere, and Bradley is playing detective while Paul the wild African is destroying his bed. Peter and Andrewskin are seeing whose clothing is of better quality. Robot is in Zack's room listening to more Elvis.

Then you hear running water, and you see Constantine washing his hair, while Glenn is flexing in the Weight Room. Eric is signed out Golf, and Barry is making his liver noises. Surprise...Andrew MacNaughton is being cheeky! (And the house WASN'T named after me! ) Matt is fixing his bike, waiting in line so he can phone Switzerland. Ian is doing NORMAL activities. Milton and Roger are getting laps for making noise, while Panet is negotiating with President Carter about Nuclear Reactors. Then, as one goes to bed he or she sees an amazing astrology show of shooting stars.

It was a fabulous and fun year, and as always, but more so this year, a lot of credit goes to our Housemasters, who kept us (or tried...) under control and kept the McNaughton wheels rolling.

Our Housemasters...Mr. Lloydskin, who is breaking in his new track suit, Mr. Romskin, who is handing out laps like the price was falling, and Mr. Turnskin, who's looking for a G.I. Jane.

Alas and alack, so ends another year...bye to all those who are checking out, and WATCH OUT to all those who are checking in! Y'All come back now, y'hear?

The geography of the ZOO is quite simple, three floors, one basement, two dorms. On the top floor we have Gabonzo Brains Roberto or Herbert, who has been busy with war games and Jay. Next is little Jean Yves who lasted another year of partial silence. In the suite we find Mitchell fantasizing an affair with Ballantyne III, Sette having fourth floor parties and Bryson memorizing V1P1 V2P2 (Boyle's law). Down the hall are Dicky "Rookie of the Year" Clinton, running through brick walls, and Smiley occupying one room. Across are Jenne, who spent the year with Mad, Igor who spent the year in seclusion and Marshall who spent it in the shower room. Now we find Eggo "Organizer" Johnson, the smooth Fonz in one room while the Mad Scientist O'Reilly and Ye Olde Slime Smyth are across the hall. Then we come to the "Spirited" of the house, Marc and Sets. Across the hall as the inventor "Beck" and our connoisseur of fine wine, Bruce, who kept up the house average. On the first are Shawn and Eli, the soccer stars, and then we find the Cowboy lassoing an eggroll. Next we have our recruit room with "KISS" Sewell and Jocko Jacobsen. Then Hole and Zipper are found. Now we come across the "Golden Brick" winner Quinet, rooming in solitary confinement. The next room is "out of bounds". In the sub suite we have.....who cares! All in all the house went down by two members for various reasons. Our achievements were second in the x-country and Carnival and we won by default in the annual Smith-Williams soccer game.

I would like to thank our masters for being there when we needed them? ? ? and their support and supplies throughout the year, especially Carnival.

The nine new outsiders were confronted by the 14 Directors: Steve Kouri, Director of Foods (thanks for the pot! ), Timothy Ballantyne, Director of Beverages (that lemonade always tasted funny! ); Steen Jorgensen, Director of Purchasing (pizzas); Brian Bell, Director of Social Services (who is it this week? ); and next year's Directors of Directing Directions, J. Drunken McDougall and the President of Moseley Distributors Ltd.; assisted by our top-level Executives, Howie & apprentice Yogi, Mr. Jonas, and Mr. Steve "Go to" Tabah.

The 1978-79 Subordinate Council will be training Dave "oo-oo" Molson, Bolo Saldivia, Razz "Loudmouth" Laframboise, Killer Hollander, Iain "Colonial" Duncan, Serge "Canoe" Cloutier, Christian "PJ's" Hollands, and Gordon "Telephone" Somerville.

The following have been awarded Sabbaticals: SteFAN Stiegler, Spacy Spicy, and Danny Brown.

The top men, Yukitaka Kurata and Michael Weir, formed the Cosa Nostra of Willie's and we had reason to believe they were keeping a close watch on Ed Leefe, our right-winged national frontist and professional poet. They were tipped by a reliable source that he was going to rule the world. Thank God the source got a wrong number.

Among our greatest achievements this year was the Record number of Tuckshop openings: 4, 012! (in one day! ).

It again was an enjoyable and unforgettable year. It will always have a great effect on the residents, whether they are leaving or staying, and we owe this all to Mr. Campbell, to Mr. Milner, to Dave Cronin, and to each other. Farewell and take care.

Students

This has been the year of the Day Student. We did really well in the fall cross-country, especially in the case of the Junior Girls. Then came the Winter Carnival, where Jessica, Lucie T., Haidy, Adele and Andrea (the flying mummy) dominated the Great Race. For the first time, Day Students made snow sculptures. During the winter Andy Ross won many squash tournaments in Quebec and Ontario.

Spring arrived with Bus, Tammy, Becky and Mike S. filling up the school parking lot with their cars. Gini and Clifford began school on Mondays after a while. Meanwhile, Mr. Badger puttered around on his moped, trying to miss hitting Willy, Mike R. and Chris on their skateboards. Andrew Calder, Cookie and Barb cycled away in Vermont as Tori tried to make it to Grier House.

Spring fever hit Vicky and Jill with mono and Wilf joined the 50's club. Jamie hobbled around on his broken toe. Daypower increased as we conquered the track meet for the girls. Heather, Bridget, Lucy N., Sherrie, and Robyn won most of their events. Ashley, Alex, Robin, Carlos, Todd, Hugo, Timmy (yes, Sue, he is in our house! ) and Clive really tried hard as well.

The house party was one surprise after another. Janet and Caroline's cake was actually edible. Cookie, Robert, Inch, Peter, Bobby and Sakky drenched us with water balloons. "We thought we weren't having a water fight, Mrs. Sakamoto! "

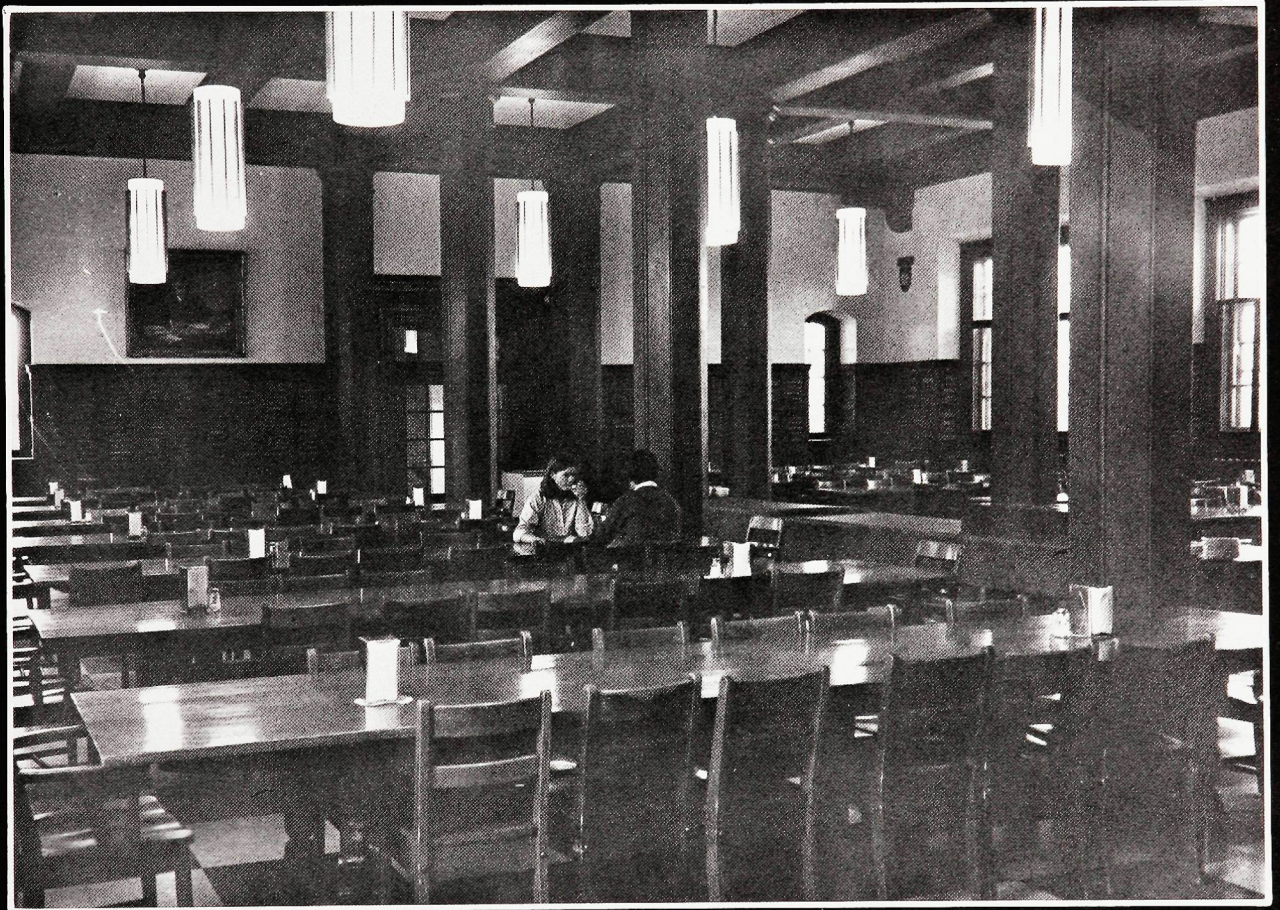

At the closing service, Adele won the Boswell Writing Prize, Ashley was First in his Form, Robyn won the Harding Trophy, Lucy N. was awarded the Matheson Prize and the KHC Shield, Cool Mike won the Music Prize, Caroline won the Home Ec Prize, and Craig received the Rankin Trophy.

Day students are finally in an independent House because of the hard work done by Vicky, Mrs. Sakamoto and Mr. Badger. But don't forget our cheerleaders, Janet and Caroline!

A Gamble

A deck of cards,
A pair of dice;
A broken heart,
A touch of ice.

A simple kind
of ended love.

A flaming heart,
A grimaced face;
A quiet sob,
An endless chase.

A simple kind
of ended love.

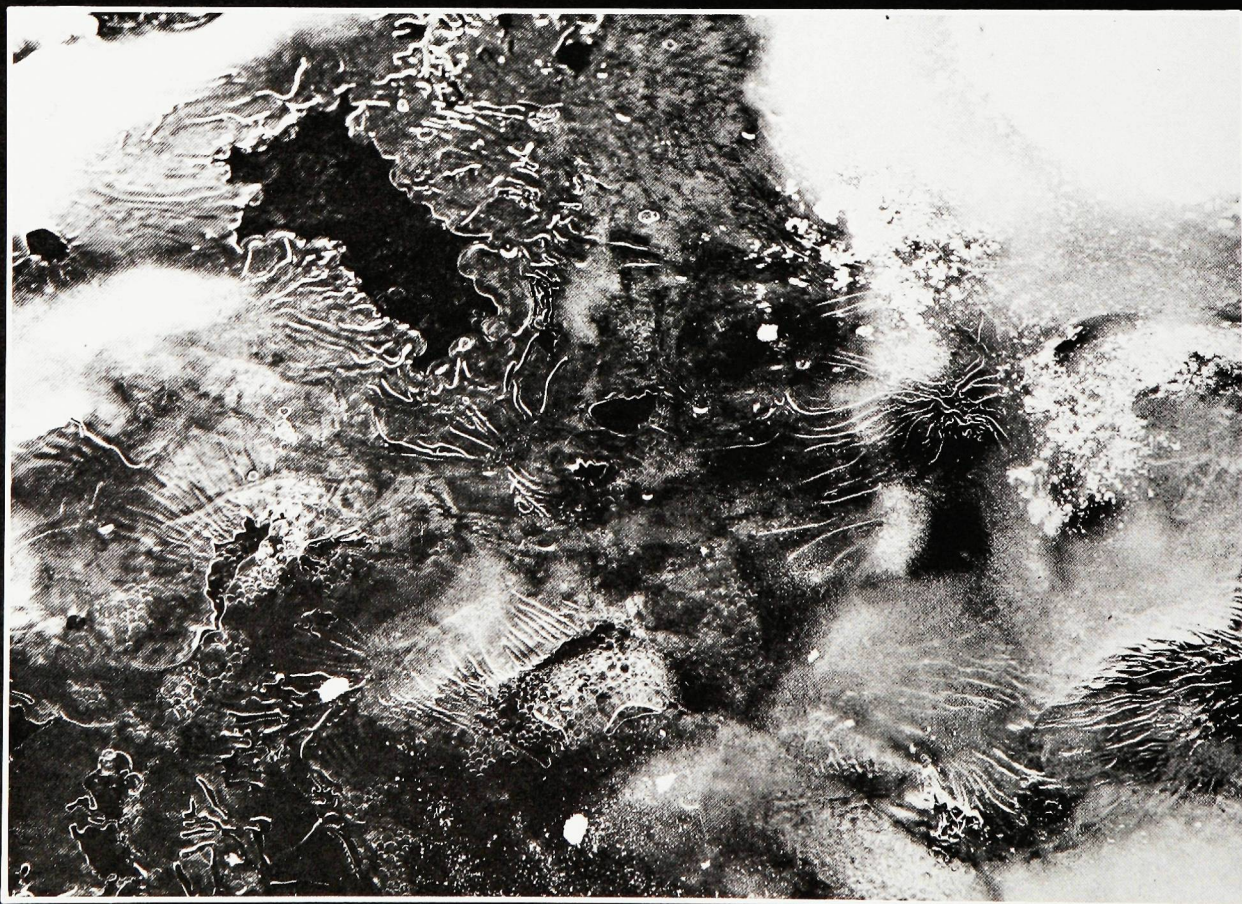

A deep regret,
for having cared;
but it was fun
while we were paired.

A simple kind of ended love.

Too young to know
about the facts;
Too dumb to know
what really lacks.

A simple kind of ended love.....

TEACHERS

They talk, we listen, they talk.
They know, we don't, they teach.
They yell, we awaken, they go on.
They explain, we understand, .....they think.
They ask how, we don't know, they get mad.
They ask why, we say because, they say wrong.
They test, we pass, they let us go on.

Timothy Ballantyne

The 26-Verse Ode to the Liberal and Conservative Parties of Canada

Editor's Note: This poem is to be read with the same enthusiasm the author would read it with.

There's a country just north of the United States,
Flanked by two oceans that serve as its gates;

This Canadian nation so named by its men,
Who've protected and guarded for a "Hundred and Ten",
Have defended their country again and again.

These men, they have led us, these heroes so bold,
Through thick and through thin, through hot and through cold.

But then there are some who aren't quite as hardy,
These half-men are found in the Liberal Party.

This low, loathsome few, this vile left wing,
There's Trudeau, there's Pearson, there's Reagen, there's King.

They hunger for power, they ache for a seat,
But they only know victory, they know no defeat.

Now a Liberal will travel by wheel or by hike,
If he can't get an airplane, he'll go on a bike.

The people's obtuseness, his pass to the house;
He's as cold as a lizard, as warm as a louse.

His quest is for luxury (when it's not his expense),
But money can't buy any good common sense.

And where does this money all come from, you ask?
Why, from all of our pockets, the reward of our task.

But let us return to these sea-gates I mention,
And learn to discern a sad apprehension;

There's the question of money, of our dollar that's falling,
When it hits $.85 we'll really be bawling!

The strikes are abundant, beyond the mind's reach,
But the Liberals submit, never learn, but they teach.

There are miners and postmen, there's the men in the air,
They will fight, they will bicker, they will curse, they will swear.

The country's a mess, but please don't be sorry,
The answer's quite simple, it lies in the Tory.

These Liberals are tiresome, they've just got to go,
Their leader's a reptile, his name is Trudeau.

Yes, Trudeau's their leader, but one of small size,
With his feeble opinions and arrogant guise.

But now, there's a hope, a light in this dark!
Perhaps you might know him, his name is JOE CLARK!

This man's a Tory, this leader so great!
Who'll rescue us all from this dark shadowed fate.
He's not like Bracken, or Stanfield, or Drew,
He's destined to win! He's different! He's new!
But first let us poison this mock of... "Joe Who! "

Now a Tory is one who is loyal to his mind,
He's faithful, he's honest, he's stern, but he's kind.

He has courage, he has wit, he has scrupulous sight,
Grits fight for power, Tories fight for right!

His justice unequaled, his honor unmatched,
He's the stars in the heavens! He's the gold that's been hatched!

Now go to the booths and place wisely your X
And play the right part in removing this hex,

And give to the nation the guide we so need,
To tidy this country and rip out the weed.

So please vote the Tories, those wise, honest, men,
Who've protected and guarded for a "Hundred and Ten! "

by Edward H. Leefe

Editor's Note: (Again! ) This poem was sent by the author to the Parliament Hill Office of Joe Clark, the Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, and was returned by him personally, with a congratulatory note.

2 Poems by Steve Shaw

Mrs. Mitch

Across the piles of musty books
The queen of all the library looks.
At first I quail,
How did I fail?
Did I disturb immortal Keats,
Or make loud noises with my feet?
But no, I'm free,
It wasn't me!
All hell is now about to pop,
She's going to crack down on the wop.
Majestic poise, she's to her feet.
Poor, poor Luigi will get beat.
But he won't take the whole thing light,
Look, he's standing up to fight!

Poor Mr. Schiff's departed son
Didn't know she totes a gun.

Geography . . .

Mr. Bateman's standing there
plucking figures from the air.
I'm sitting here, as you can see,
Drowsing through Geography.
We'd like to ask but do not dare
if he would please give us a spare!

. . . and one by Jay Gilbert. . .

To clutch shaking fingers
is to strive through life
with confidence
and dynamic power.

It gives a sense of supremacy
over the worst.
You've got it made,
If you cherish the best.

Dark in my dreams of a night,
I picture myself in an
unlit hole.
Darkness reigns over clarity.

Comprehension of my desires
is the only favor I ask.
In fact I beg for you
to understand me.

It's alright if you don't you're not the first
nor the last for that matter
but I'll keep trying.

Thanks for listening,
It has relieved me.
somewhat.
Thank you, once again...

Freedom

On the open hill
they roam freely
from dusk to dawn
simple tranquility
away from noise, away from smog
and man its common enemy.

Requiem

Beneath this ground
Lies one who found
that dying's not so bad;
So let's not weep
but rather keep
the thoughts of times we had.

So this is the price of superiority.

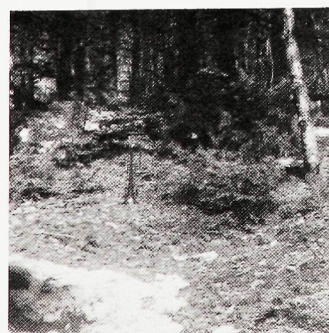

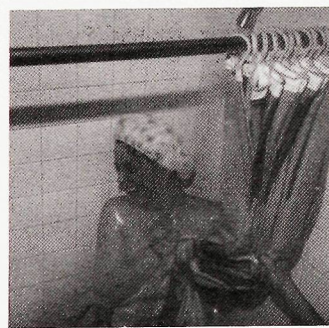

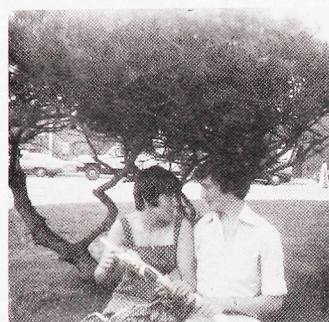

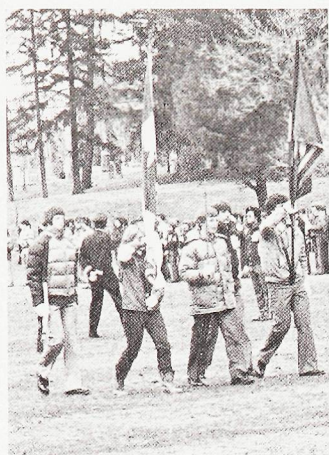

For oft when on my couch I lie
In vacant or in pensive mood
They flash upon that inward eye
Which is the bliss of solitude.

Chairman's Remarks

It is with pleasure that I welcome two new faces to our Board of Directors. Derek Drummond is Director of the School of Architecture at McGill University and Jerome Smyth practices law in Montreal.

We live in changing times. Dr. Camille Laurin has just produced his white paper on culture that probes and examines many, if not all, the attitudes and practices of everybody living in Quebec. It is a lengthy document. I think the editors of the Readers Digest could shorten it by 75 percent and lose nothing. However, having said that, possibly, as with magazine article writers, Dr. Laurin hopes to be paid by the word. The document suggests that the State should be concerning itself more and more with how we think, act, and live - a notion that I personally find extremely unattractive. However, it is thought provoking.

To look at it positively, it does imply that we would all be better off if more residents of Quebec - regardless of identity - were to think in terms of enriching the culture of the province. Possibly another way of putting somewhat the same thing is to think of contributing towards the betterment of society.

This leads me to the concept of education that is followed at BCS. This School aims to educate the whole person - academically, physically, culturally, and in a certain sense spiritually and socially, so that they will not only be better people for having been here, but will contribute toward the betterment of their community.

Our Judo-Christian heritage has stressed the importance and contribution of the place of the individual in Society, not the importance of the State or the Collectivity or Big Brother.

To you who graduate, the more you get involved wherever you are and whatever you do, the better you will be at it in your adult life. BCS has a good - perhaps a very good record in inspiring its graduates to get involved constructively in their communities. I don't know if this is what Dr. Laurin really has in mind. If he has, then the white paper is not all bad. If not, then I suggest you invent your own white paper. Incidentally, for those of you who are prepared to do some hard thinking, I commend to you the address delivered at the graduation ceremonies at Harvard this week by Mr. Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn. He gave a sobering, sound and very challenging analysis of our world today.

It has often been said that life can be harsh. Certainly the market place can be harsh. To equip our students to cope with life today we have striven to maintain our standard of discipline and our level of expectations of their conduct.

An orderly mind is clearly linked to a well ordered life. We believe firmly that required standards of discipline are an important requisite for the development of self-discipline, so vital in later life. We do nobody a favor in the long run by being lax or indecisive in this area. That does not mean that on occasion in certain isolated circumstances the School may not show compassion. When that does occur - and it has occurred - it is because it is warranted. No one, however, should be under any illusion about vacillation or inconsistency. The School's standards of discipline have been and will remain an important part of its quality of education.

With Bill 101 in place and no similar legislation hanging over our heads, I am happy to be able to report that the outlook for BCS is clearer than it was a year ago. The need for this institution is as great as ever. The need for ongoing financial support is unending. The School is fortunate that Justice William Mitchell has agreed to act as Chairman of the BCS Foundation and to head up our fund-raising efforts. The future quality of our programme is clearly conditional upon our total support of his endeavours.

This School will continue to play its historic role in education. How well it does will depend on you - the members of the BCS community - students, Old Girls, Old Boys, parents, former parents and friends.

Hugh G. Hallward,
Chairman of the Board
June 1978
